Welcome

Welcome to a different kind of university! Welcome to AST.

AST offers you a place for research, study, personal growth, and reflection. This is a place to explore your spirituality and faith, and how to draw on it to enrich the lives of others. This is a place to draw from the deep wells of historical and contemporary wisdom, and a place where leaders of today and tomorrow gain the knowledge and skills to change and influence our world for the better.

The story of Atlantic School of Theology is one of community and collaboration. AST emerged as visionary leaders came together to create one university.

It began with three theological schools: University of King's College divinity faculty (Anglican Church of Canada), Holy Heart Theological Seminary (The Roman Catholic Episcopal Corporation of Halifax) and Pine Hill Divinity Hall (The United Church of Canada). For years, they had been distinct, but by the late 1960s, students were sharing both classes and faculty, and representatives of these denominations were inspired to build on this.

In March 1971, Articles of Agreement were signed to create one ecumenical theological school. This was the first time in Canada that three denominations had come together for such an institution. That fall, Atlantic School of Theology welcomed its first students.

Half a century later, AST is well-established among North America's theological schools. We have a faculty and programs that encourage excellence in educational achievement and shape community leaders who draw on their knowledge and skills to help build a better world. Today's AST students are prepared to meet the theological, ethical, and leadership challenges of our era.

AST is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools in the United States and Canada and offers a Master of Divinity degree and – together with Saint Mary's University – a Master of Arts (Theology and Religion) degree. We also offer a 10-credit Graduate Certificate program in Theological Studies, a Diploma in Missional Leadership, a Diploma in the New Evangelization, and a Diploma in Theological Studies, with online and on-campus options. In September 2023, subject to approval by the Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission, we will launch a Bachelor of Theology degree program.

AST's Mission

Atlantic School of Theology serves Christ's mission by shaping effective and faithful ordained and lay leaders and understanding among communities of faith.

Academic Program Admissions

Academic Admissions Requirements for the Master of Divinity program and the Graduate Certificate in Theological Studies program

The academic requirement for admission to these programs is a Bachelor's degree from a university recognized by the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada or the Council for Higher Education in the United States. You have maintained an average of 70% or a 'B' grade (or the grade point average equivalent) or higher in your undergraduate program.

Academic Admissions Requirements for the Master of Arts (Theology and Religion) Program

The academic requirement for admission to this program as a first degree in theology (thesis or course-only) is a Bachelor's degree in any discipline from a university recognized by the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada, the Council for Higher Education in the United States, or a similarly recognized institution. You have maintained a minimum 'B+' average in your undergraduate program.

The academic requirement for admission to this program as a specialization in theology (thesis or course-only) is a Bachelor's degree in Theology, a Bachelor's degree in a cognate discipline, or a Master of Divinity degree from a university recognized by the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada, the Council for Higher Education in the United States, or a similarly recognized institution, with a minimum 'B+' average.

Studying at AST without a Bachelor's Degree

If you do not have a completed Bachelor's degree, we encourage you to apply to AST's Bachelor of Theology program. Otherwise, you may take a first degree in any other subject prior to studying at AST. We encourage the study of the humanities (literature, history, languages, theology, philosophy, classics, or the study of religion) as the best preparation for theological studies.

Please note the program application deadlines in "Deadlines for Application for Admission to Graduate Programs" later in this section.

Accelerated Entry into Master of Divinity Program or Graduate Certificate Program in Theological Studies

AST has been approved for a three-year experiment to admit students to the MDiv or Graduate Certificate Program in Theological Studies (GCTS) who have completed two or more years of undergraduate studies and who, through an outstanding academic record, are able to demonstrate readiness for graduate studies in theology. Note that MA (Theology and Religion) program applicants must in all cases complete a full Bachelor's degree.

To apply under the Accelerated Entry process, submit to the Registrar's Office a cover letter outlining the reasons you believe that you qualify for Accelerated Entry; a completed MDiv or GCTS application; a processing fee of $225; and an academic essay 8-10 pages in length, showcasing your best research and writing skills. Your transcript of marks must be forwarded directly from an accredited university to the Registrar's Office. Your transcript must show the following:

- a minimum of two full years of full-time undergraduate studies (equivalent to 10 year-long university courses or 20 one-semester courses)
- a minimum of 6 year-long university courses (or 12 one-semester courses) in humanities subjects (defined as literature, history, languages, theology, philosophy, classics, or the study of religion)

- a minimum A- average
- no grades in the C, D, or F range. Any grade in these ranges will disqualify you from Accelerated Entry. If a C, D, or F appears on your transcript, you will need to complete an undergraduate degree before applying to AST.

Accelerated Entry applications will be assessed by the Academic Dean and a member of the Admissions Committee. Applicants may be required to undertake further undergraduate courses prior to, or in conjunction with, graduate studies at AST.

Students who have not yet begun their university studies are warmly encouraged to contact AST to discuss their plan of studies at the undergraduate level, with a view to the best possible preparation for theological studies.

For more information about AST's Accelerated Entry process, please contact the Registrar at 902.425.3691 or registrar@astheology.ns.ca.

Students from Other Universities

AST welcomes students from other universities (undergraduates and graduate students) who wish to take one or more courses at AST and to use those credits within their programs at their home university. You must arrange for a Letter of Permission from your home university authorizing your registration at AST to be sent directly to AST's Registrar (registrar@astheology.ns.ca). Your home university will determine the credit value of the course and its designation within your program. You will complete AST's standard registration forms and pay tuition and associated fees for the course directly to AST by the published payment dates. At the end of the applicable academic term, AST will send an official transcript to your home university to confirm the final grade you achieved in the course. You may not use that course credit completed by Letter of Permission toward program requirements at AST in the future.

Language of Instruction

The language of instruction at AST is English. If you are not fluent in English, you will need to take English language lessons that will make you fully capable of speaking, reading, and writing English. If your ability to communicate in English is considered to be insufficient by the Faculty, you will be required to take additional English language lessons.

International Students

Please visit <https://www.canada.ca/en/immigration-refugees-citizenship/services/study-canada.html> prior to applying to AST. Students who are not citizens or permanent residents of Canada will need to apply to Immigration Canada for a Study Permit, unless you intend to study via online courses only. AST requires international students to meet all government requirements and have sufficient financial resources for the duration of their studies. AST does not provide tuition waivers, but you may apply for an International Student Bursary from AST in September, which will reduce your total tuition costs.

Technology Requirements

You will need a computer and high-speed internet to access online courses and online study/research resources. Familiarity with current technology is essential for your academic success, including facility with word processing, email communication, and navigating the internet. We encourage you to take technology training prior to theological studies if you do not feel prepared. AST does not provide technology training.

Admissions Process

The admissions process for the programs described above includes submission of the appropriate application form and payment of a non-refundable application fee of $80. Be sure to include all written materials requested in the application form in one email or package. You will need to request an official transcript from each university and/or college you attended. Your official transcript(s) must be sent directly to the Registrar at Atlantic School of Theology and signed/ stamped by the issuing education institution. Once your application is reviewed, you will receive an admission decision letter from the Dean’s office. Please see “Admissions Process” for detailed information on the admission process for each program.

Bachelor of Theology Degree Program

NOTICE

At the time of printing, AST has applied to the Maritime Provinces' Higher Education Commission for approval to offer a Bachelor of Theology program. Once this approval has been issued, AST will be able to admit students to the Bachelor of Theology program. For more information, please contact the Academic Dean.

BTh Admission Requirements

At a minimum, you will need a completed high school diploma (including English 12) or equivalent, with a minimum B average (70% or better). Your completion of high school must be demonstrated by a transcript issued by the school or other issuing agency. Your academic interests should be well suited to theological subjects and subdisciplines. The Bachelor of Theology degree involves an extensive amount of independent reading, research, and academic writing. Personal maturity is an important prerequisite for the program.

Duration of the BTh Program

The completion of the BTh requires 30 credits (thirty courses). A full time student could complete the degree within three years. A part time student may take up to six years to complete the BTh.

BTh classes, courses, and assessment

Many BTh courses are crosslisted with graduate courses. This means that for most of your BTh degree, you will be in classes with mature graduate students who are studying for a Master's degree. However, you will be assessed and given assignments that are geared to an undergraduate (Bachelor or first degree) level of study. Courses are offered in a variety of formats: on campus, online, and hybrid.

BTh Financial Assistance

Financial assistance for BTh students is under review for 2023-24.

BTh Admissions Process

Submit a completed BTh program application form and autobiographical essay to the Registrar's office by the published application deadlines and an $80 non-refundable application fee sent directly to the Business Office (businessoffice@asttheology.ns.ca). Request one official transcript from each of your previous and current post-secondary education institutions to be sent directly to the Registrar. Three confidential letters of reference are required and must be sent directly to the Registrar by your referees. Visit the Bachelor of Theology page on the AST website for more information: www.asttheology.ns.ca/future/undergraduate/bachelor-of-theology.html. The Academic Dean and a member of the Admissions Committee will review your application and, if necessary, interview you to determine your suitability for the program. If successful, you will receive an admission letter from the Dean. If not, you will receive notification that your application was unsuccessful.

BTh Program Designs and Requirements

The completion of the BTh requires 30 credits (thirty courses or 90.0 credit hours).

The BTh has two tracks: the General BTh Degree program track and the Specialized BTh Degree program track. The Specialized BTh is for those who wish to serve faith communities, social service agencies, non-profits, charities, and similar agencies or vocations.

In the first year of study, all BTh students follow the same pattern of courses. This is called the Discovery Year.

Discovery Year (Year 1) - for all BTh students

MAP courses are field-based (co-op) learning placements with an accompanying AST seminar.

Course Registration Limit

Theological studies are intense and demanding. They require time for reflection and integration, as well as time for study. Students are strongly advised not to exceed 5 credits/audited courses in each of the Fall or Winter terms, and 3 credits/audited courses in the Summer term. These limits are considered to be 100% of a full course load. With the permission of their Faculty Advisor, students may register for an overload of up to 1 additional credit or audit in any term.

Field Education (co-op learning) via the MAP courses

Specialized BTh students must undertake field education (also known as co-op) placements; for General BTh students, field education is optional. Contact your Faculty Advisor to discuss the options. Your placement may be with a community of faith or with a social service agency, charity, non-profit, or in another suitable context, depending on your vocational objectives.

Denominational Courses

For General BTh Degree students, courses related to a specific religious tradition are optional electives and not required. Specialized BTh students may be required to take certain denominationally-related courses, including Denominational Formation. Contact your Faculty Advisor for details.

Languages

The BTh degree does not require language studies. AST offers Hebrew and Greek elective courses. You may take other language courses at another university as a Letter of Permission student and have the credit count toward your AST degree. Contact your Faculty Advisor for details.

Bachelor of Theology Thesis

AST is exploring the option of developing a thesis option for BTh students. Contact your Faculty Advisor for details.

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE)

A maximum of two CPE credits may be counted toward the BTh program requirements. (See "Clinical (Supervised) Pastoral Education" for a complete description of the CPE program.)

Summer Term

AST offers a Summer term from mid-June to late July. Courses are offered in an intensive format, typically meeting for 10 three-hour sessions over two consecutive weeks. It is possible to take up to 3 courses toward your BTh during a Summer term. Summer term courses require a substantial investment of time, and thus other responsibilities should be kept to a minimum. You are strongly advised not to try to work at a job during the Summer term if you are also taking a course.

Bachelor of Theology Program Goals and Desired Student Outcomes

At the time of printing, these details were not finalized. Contact your Faculty Advisor after September 1, 2023 for further information.

Graduate Degree and Certificate Programs (Graduate Studies)

MASTER OF DIVINITY

MDiv Admission Requirements

You will need a Bachelor's degree from an accredited university, with a minimum of 'B' average (or grade point average equivalent). Your interests, talents, and personal goals should correspond with the program's purposes.

If you do not hold a Bachelor's degree, we encourage you to apply to AST's Bachelor of Theology program.

MDiv Financial Assistance

Generous entrance scholarships are awarded annually to MDiv students with outstanding academic backgrounds. All MDiv applicants are considered for these awards. No additional application is required for these scholarships, except for the Northern Lights Scholarship, which does require a separate application. AST also has a needs-based bursary fund. Bursary application forms, along with other details, are available on the AST website: www.astheology.ns.ca/future/financial-assistance. Additional funding may be available from your church, denomination, parish, diocese, or congregation.

MDiv Admissions Process

Submit your completed MDiv program application form and personal statement (3 to 4 pages describing the development of your spiritual and religious faith, church involvement, how you see your vocation in life, and your hopes for theological education) to the Registrar's office by the published application deadlines and an $80 non-refundable application fee directly to the Business Office (businessoffice@astheology.ns.ca). Request one official transcript from each of your previous and current post-secondary education institutions to be sent directly to the Registrar. Three confidential letters of reference are required and must be sent directly to the Registrar by your referees. Visit the Applications & Course Registration page on the AST website for more information: www.astheology.ns.ca/future/application-registration-forms

The Academic Dean and a member of the Admissions Committee will review your application and, if necessary, interview you to determine your suitability for the program. If successful, you will receive an admission letter from the Dean. If not, you will receive notification that your application was unsuccessful.

MDiv Program Requirements

This program is designed primarily for individuals preparing for ordained or professional ministry. It is not required that you be a church-sponsored candidate. Please consult with your denomination concerning its requirements for ordination or any professional designation.

The MDiv program is a first or second degree in theology intended to develop competence in the major areas of theological inquiry and ministerial practice. Through this program, you will be prepared for leadership roles in congregations, healthcare settings, educational institutions, chaplaincy, and the wider community, and for further graduate studies in the theological disciplines.

If you are contemplating the MDiv program we encourage you to focus on literature, history, languages, social sciences, theology, philosophy, and classics in your undergraduate studies. Strong research and writing skills are essential in all AST graduate programs and courses.

If you are applying for the MDiv program and have completed a Master's level program in theology, you may request advanced standing when you apply.

Once you have been admitted to the MDiv program, you will be required to complete 30 academic credits and to maintain an overall B average to qualify for the degree.

You will have an opportunity during the course registration process to discuss your course selection with your Faculty Advisor. It is your responsibility to register and complete courses required to meet the MDiv program requirements and any denominational requirements that you need.

Duration of the MDiv Program

Normally, MDiv program students need a minimum of two and a half to three years to complete the degree and may take up to seven years to complete the program. This applies to the On-campus and the Summer Distance streams of the MDiv program and the Honours MDiv program. If you do not complete the program within seven years, you will need written permission from the AST Senate for an extension.

An MDiv student may register for a Leave of Absence and pay a fee of $112. This will allow you to take an authorized leave for up to one year.

Course Registration Limit

Theological studies are intense and demanding. They require time for reflection and integration, as well as time for study. Students are strongly advised not to exceed 5 credits/audited courses in each of the Fall or Winter terms, and 3 credits/audited courses in the Summer term. These limits are considered to be 100% of a full course load. With the permission of their Faculty Advisor, students may register for an overload of up to 1 additional credit or audit in any term.

Research Methods and Practices

Research Methods and Practices (RM 1000) is a required course for the BTh and MDiv programs and is a prerequisite for all 3000-level elective courses.

Students in this course learn foundational methodologies and practices for graduate-level research in theology, including information literacy; citation style and standards; plagiarism and academic integrity; and the competencies required for qualitative research methods including the research traditions such as basic Qualitative Research, Phenomenology, Ethnography, Narrative Analysis, and Qualitative Case Study.

Exemption from Research Methods and Practices may be made on a case-by-case basis. If you have previously taken a graduate-level course that fulfills all of the elements noted above, you may send a written request for exemption, official transcript, and copy of the course syllabus to the Registrar when applying to the BTh or MDiv program. Alternatively, you may send a request to the Registrar to write a challenge exam in May or August.

Supervised Field Education

Experiential learning is a vital dimension of theological education. On-campus MDiv students are normally assigned to a ministry context in the first year of studies. Summer Distance MDiv students normally begin serving in a ministry context at the beginning of the first or second year of studies. Field settings are based in congregations and parishes, and sometimes include healthcare institutions or other appropriate placements. You will work with a qualified supervisor and a resource team of lay members from the community. Each month, you will take on greater responsibilities while developing your skills in pastoral ministries, teaching, liturgy, community analysis, and theological investigation.

If you plan to register for MAP 1000 (this course replaces both SFE 1000 Supervised Field Education and SMP 1000 Supervised Ministry Practicum), you will need to arrange for a current Criminal Records Check and Vulnerable Sector Check to be sent to the Academic Office Coordinator (academic@astheology.ns.ca) by October 1st. You may submit an original Criminal Records Check and Vulnerable Sector Check or use MyBackCheck.com.

Denominational Courses

All MDiv courses are taken in AST's rich ecumenical environment. Denominationally specific courses meet the unique needs of our founding parties. These courses are open to all students at AST. Please discuss such course selection with your Faculty Advisor before registering. You may also wish to talk to your Formation Director or the course instructor.

Biblical Languages

Reading knowledge of Biblical Languages is invaluable if your vocation requires interpretation and proclamation of the Scriptures. AST offers introductory courses in Greek and Hebrew in alternating years as regular courses or by Directed Study. Advanced courses are offered based on demand. Up to one course credit may be counted toward fulfillment of your Scripture Studies elective requirements, and other language credits will be considered as unrestricted electives.

Graduate Project and Seminar

The Graduate Project and Seminar provides an opportunity for in-depth exploration of a ministry-related question or issue. It is taken in the final year of the MDiv program and is valued at two credits. You will choose the field setting for the development, execution, and evaluation of the project. This course is not suited to a Directed Study format due to its collaborative nature.

This project invites you to engage a variety of theological disciplines as you gain a deeper understanding of the dynamic forces within communities of faith and agencies of social responsibility. The goal is to equip you to lead in these contexts. You will be challenged to see yourself as a researcher and agent of change while gaining strength in theological engagement, social analysis, and spiritual assessment. The Graduate Seminar is an opportunity to share insights, draw on emerging resources for ministry, and stimulate creativity within a community of leaders. Examination of spiritual leadership in its many forms and manifestations is a critical focus.

Master of Divinity Thesis

You may request permission to write a thesis in the MDiv program. Please discuss your thesis topic and a potential thesis director with your Faculty Advisor. Note carefully which degree credits will be fulfilled by the thesis (Foundations courses cannot be fulfilled via a thesis). If your Faculty Advisor agrees, and a thesis director has agreed to supervise your work, include "Thesis" and the number of credits (normally 2) on your Course Indicator Form at the time of registration. (See "Thesis" in Academic Policies and Regulations for more information.)

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE)

A maximum of two CPE credits may be counted toward the MDiv program requirements. (See "Clinical (Supervised) Pastoral Education" for a complete description.) Up to four CPE credits may be applied to the MDiv Honours degree.

World Religions

Knowledge of other religious traditions is invaluable in taking on leadership roles in an increasingly diverse world. AST, in conjunction with Saint Mary's University, offers courses that deepen your knowledge of other religions. You may explore the selection of electives at Saint Mary's University or other universities as possibilities for inclusion in your AST program. For MDiv students, the external course must be offered at the graduate level or have the requirements upgraded to meet graduate standards.

Summer Term

AST offers a Summer term from mid-June to late July. Courses are offered in an intensive format, typically meeting for 10 three-hour sessions over two consecutive weeks. It is possible to take up to 3 MDiv courses during the summer term. Summer term courses require a substantial investment of time, and thus other responsibilities should be kept to a minimum. You are advised not to try to work at a job during the Summer term if you are also taking a course.

Master of Divinity Program DesignsOn-Campus MDiv Program

The Fall term runs from September to December and the Winter term from January to April. Fall term and Winter term each lasts 13 weeks. Most classes will be 2.5 hours in length and meet once a week. Normally, 30 hours of instruction/contact hours over one term equals one credit. If you are enrolled in the On-campus MDiv program, you can take summer and internet courses in partial fulfillment of degree requirements. No more than half the credits of the MDiv program may be taken online. The Faculty may require certain credits to be taken on campus.

The general On-Campus MDiv program requirements are as follows. The requirements of your denomination can impact the courses you must take. Please consult with your Faculty Advisor for details.

Foundations Courses		Graduate Project & Seminar in the Practice of Ministry (final year):

Please note that this outline of requirements will be applied in a denomination-specific way if you are preparing for ordination. For candidates and postulants for ordained ministry, the MDiv program's 30 credits will include denominational course requirements and the denominational formation program credit.

Summer Distance MDiv Program

This program is designed for students who choose to do the MDiv degree while serving in a supervised ministry setting (paid or unpaid). The Summer Distance MDiv program can be undertaken by students of any denomination or faith tradition, as long as a supervised ministry placement is available and is authorized by your denomination.

The Summer Distance MDiv program consists of 15 on-campus credits taken during the Summer term (three credits per summer). If you reside and/or work within commuting distance, you may take on-campus courses during Fall or Winter term. The remaining 15 credits will usually be taken online. Summer Distance MDiv students may take CPE as part of their program of study. If you wish to take courses at another institution for credit toward your AST degree, you must obtain a Letter of Permission from AST. (See "Letter of Permission for External Courses" under Academic Policies and Regulations.)

The Summer Distance MDiv program design reflects the format and requirements of the On-campus MDiv program (as noted above), but incorporates online or hybrid courses, on-campus Summer term courses, and Field Education via online seminars (Ministry Action Program).

The Summer Distance MDiv program normally takes five years to complete, but you may take up to seven years. Please consult with the Summer Distance MDiv Program Coordinator and appropriate church authorities about supervised ministry requirements.

The recommended pattern for Fall and Winter terms is to take one course, and only one course, in addition to the Ministry Action Program Practicum course (MAP) that runs from September to April.

The general Summer Distance MDiv program requirements are as follows. The requirements of your denomination can impact the courses you must take. Please consult with your Faculty Advisor for details.

Foundations Courses		Graduate Project & Seminar in the Practice of Ministry (final year):

subtotal	2	SUMMER DISTANCE MDIV PROGRAM TOTAL 30

Note: Elective requirements for Summer Distance MDiv students may vary or be limited, depending on the expectations of your denomination.

Under an agreement with the General Council, United Church of Canada students in the Summer Distance MDiv program who are preparing for ordination must include within their program of study two additional field education courses (SME 3000 and SME 4000) after completing MAP 1000 and MAP 2000. These two additional years of supervised ministry fulfill the church's Supervised Ministry Experience requirements. This results in fewer elective choices but means that SME is not required after graduation. Please contact the Summer Distance MDiv Coordinator for further information.

Each MAP and SME credit course (SME is open only to Summer Distance MDiv students) requires a paid or unpaid ministry placement, under supervision, with a minimum of 10 hours/week of service from September to April for two years. They can be undertaken in one site (preferred), or a different site in each year. If you are seeking ordination, the denominational authority to which you relate (district, synod, presbytery, credentialing board, etc.) must approve your site. You cannot do your placement in your home congregation/parish. AST actively discourages full-time appointments, as time for study and reflection must be accommodated year-round, including 6 full weeks for study on the AST campus in Halifax in June and July, in addition to a full allotment of vacation time. Study on campus should not be counted as vacation.

The Denominational Formation Program credit is done under the supervision of your denomination's designated authority. This credit provides you with an extended opportunity to explore your identity as a minister, pastor, or priest within your tradition. Contact your Faculty Advisor for planning assistance. You will need to arrange, register, and pay for a Directed Study through AST for this credit. The director of this Directed Study is paid by AST. Please see "Directed Study" in the Academic Policies and Regulations section later in this calendar. (Exception: United Church of Canada students in the Summer Distance MDiv follow a defined Formation program, led by the United Church Formation Director. This program runs online from September to April and on campus during the Summer terms.)

As soon as possible, you will need to work with your denominational authorities to arrange ministry placements, giving close attention to denominational regulations relevant to supervised ministry placements and provision for supervision. It is essential to initiate and maintain contact with your denominational representatives to ensure that denominational expectations are met. This is the student's responsibility.

The same admission requirements apply to the Summer Distance MDiv program as to the On-campus MDiv program. The application deadline for the Summer Distance MDiv program is March 15 to begin studies in the Summer term. Late applications will be considered. You may be admitted to courses in any term, but you can only enter the online MAP/SMP Supervised Ministry Practicum and SME Supervised Ministry Experience credit courses in September.

Summer Distance MDiv students begin courses in the Summer term (on campus in Halifax, from mid-June onward) and begin their supervised ministry placement in August or September.

For a more detailed explanation of the current design of the Summer Distance MDiv program, please consult the Program Information and Handbook, which you can download from the AST website at www.astheology.ns.ca/future/graduate/master-divinity-distance.

Please contact the Summer Distance MDiv Program Coordinator for specific information about the degree program structure that applies to your denomination.

Honours MDiv Program

The Honours MDiv program is intended for students who seek a deeper exploration of one area of study for professional or personal development, or with a view to doctoral studies. The Honours MDiv allows you to concentrate on a subject area with courses beyond the standard 30-credit program. The Honours MDiv requires 35 credits for completion.

You may choose to complete a thesis (valued at two course credits). You may also choose to complete the requirements in a course-only format without the MDiv thesis. The Honours MDiv program may require more than three years of study to complete. There are no set language requirements for the Honours MDiv, but Biblical and other language studies are encouraged.

Application Process

Students enrolled in both On-campus and Summer Distance MDiv programs are eligible to apply for admission to the Honours MDiv program. After you have completed 15 academic credits with a cumulative average of not less than 80% or an A- over at least 10 credits, you can apply for admission to the Honours MDiv program.

The application deadline is November 1 and February 1 for the Winter and Fall terms respectively. Your application must be made and accepted before registration in the final year of the MDiv program. Your letter of application (addressed to the Faculty Council) should propose an area of concentration chosen in consultation with your Faculty Advisor. Send your letter to your Faculty Advisor, who will present the proposal to the Faculty Council for consideration.

Areas of Concentration for the Honours MDiv

Areas of concentration may vary from year to year depending upon the availability of faculty members to direct a thesis and/or the availability of the required resources for the Honours MDiv concentration. The area of concentration will be recognized on your transcript. Credits used for an area of concentration may include CPE units, but only two CPE credits may be applied to the first 30 credits.

Any area of study normally offered at AST will be considered. Interdisciplinary concentrations may also be considered.

MDiv Honours students have chosen areas of concentration such as:

- Biblical Studies
- Preaching
- Leadership
- Systematic Theology
- Youth Ministry

Denominational Programs and Formation

Denominational communities (Anglican, Baptist, Roman Catholic and United Church) provide programs to prepare students for ministry within their own tradition. While denominational requirements are met in a variety of ways, including Supervised Field Education and designated electives, each denominational community sets aside time each week for special programming and formation activities.

Denominational groups within AST enjoy other occasions to gather for worship and retreat. Each community oversees the overall development of each student preparing for ordered or lay ministry.

Specific credit courses may be required in order to meet your denomination's expectations, especially if you are preparing for ordained or otherwise authorized ministry. Work with your Faculty Advisor to plan how you will meet these requirements.

You will receive one credit for the Denominational Formation program. The credit is normally registered and paid for in the final term of your final year of the MDiv program.

If a Formation program is not offered at AST by your denomination, please plan with your Faculty Advisor a Directed Study in your own spiritual or religious tradition to meet this requirement. This conversation needs to take place during or before your first year of studies. The relevant Directed Study should commence not later than 12 months after you begin your MDiv degree program and ideally should begin sooner.

Anglican Formation Program Requirements

Anglican students enrolled in the MDiv program have specific course requirements. They include:

- a) One course in Anglican Thought
"Anglican Theology: Roots and Branches" will be offered in 2024-25 and 2026-27.
- b) One course on the Eucharist and Baptism
"Sacramental Action: The Anglican Narrative" will be offered in 2023-2024 and 2025-26.
- c) One course in Pastoral Leadership
A variety of courses in areas such as preaching, church music, congregational development, leadership, etc., are appropriate to fulfill this requirement. You may take these at any point in your program, in consultation with your Faculty Advisor.
- d) One unit of Clinical Pastoral Education
This course is usually taken during the summer months. You will need to apply to the CPE host institution (e.g. Nova Scotia Health Authority) for admission to the CPE Unit. You will need to register through the Registrar's Office at AST for academic credit for the CPE unit at least six weeks before the Unit begins. One CPE unit (which usually consists of 400 clinical hours) is valued at two academic credits within the 30-credit MDiv program or the 35-credit MDiv Honours program.

e) Anglican Formation Program

Anglican students preparing for ordained ministry within the MDiv program at AST are required to participate in the Anglican Formation Program. It is sponsored by the Diocese of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, the Diocese of Fredericton, and AST. Please obtain the permission of your Bishop to enter the Program. Normally, participants will be a postulant or candidate for ordination.

Please contact the Diocese of NS-PEI, the Diocese of Fredericton, or your home Diocese for more information about Formation requirements in the Anglican tradition. Completion of this program will earn you one credit.

Requirements include:

- Regular participation in a weekly program, completion of assignments, Anglican community worship, retreats and quiet days, AST's common life and worship, and the special events of the Anglican community.
- Meeting with the Anglican Formation Director as appropriate.
- Receiving instruction in the liturgical and musical requirements of worship in the Anglican tradition.
- Meeting regularly with a spiritual director.
- Participating in the annual assessment and evaluation conducted by the Anglican Faculty, the Formation Director, and the Director of Field Education at AST. Recommendations and reports on all students enrolled in the Formation Program are made to their diocesan bishop.

Formation Program for Roman Catholic Lay Students

"The need for leaders who are skilled and effective in today's Catholic Church in Nova Scotia requires not only the theological sciences but, even more the human skills, ways and means for shared and collaborative ministry as well as the development of a better understanding of co-responsibility of laity and clergy for the missionary thrust of our Church." - Archbishop Mancini

Preparation for ministry in the Church involves the study of theology as well as spiritual growth and human development, the discernment of gifts, and an understanding of issues and concerns particular to the Roman Catholic Church.

In order to integrate these perspectives, all Roman Catholic students preparing for service in the Church are encouraged to participate in the program of formation called EQUIP. Participants take part in the following components:

- the Wednesday evening denominational course
- monthly discussion groups
- webinars twice a term
- attendance at an outside experience focused on the New Evangelization (e.g. Assembly of the People of God, Alpha Leadership Conference, Divine Renovation Conference, etc.)

To receive one AST credit for the Roman Catholic denominational formation program, you are required to participate in each of the components listed above for the duration of study for your degree.

For further information and requirements for EQUIP contact Chris O'Hara is the contact.

Diaconate Formation (Roman Catholic)

If you are an aspirant or a candidate for diaconate formation in the Archdiocese of Halifax-Yarmouth, please consult with the Director of Deacons (directorofdeacons@gmail.com) before enrolling in any compulsory or elective courses.

United Church Formation Program Requirements

The requirements for ordination in The United Church of Canada are overseen by the General Council's Office of Vocation through Regional Candidacy Boards. Anyone curious about the possibility of ordination is strongly encouraged to contact their Regional Office of Vocations Minister directly. Information provided here is for general purposes only. Please consult the current guidelines.

Requirements for ordination:

- minimum two-year period of membership and active involvement in The United Church of Canada
- a period of discernment
- the MDiv degree and the Testamur
- up to two years of Supervised Ministry Experience after completing the On-campus MDiv, or the completion of the Summer Distance MDiv program at AST which incorporates the requirements of Supervised Ministry Experience in years 4 and 5 of the program.

AST grants the Testamur to students who complete a 30-credit MDiv degree which includes two courses in preaching; United Church worship, history, doctrine, and polity; and UCC Denominational Formation.

For on-campus students, one academic credit for Denominational Formation Program participation is granted if you participate in the Wednesday afternoon United Church Formation program for three years, and successfully complete the program's requirements. This program includes weekly gatherings for worship, small group ministry, presentations, and discussions on topics specific to leadership in The United Church of Canada. A final-year retreat completes the program. All Candidates for ordered ministry are required to participate in the AST United Church Formation Program. Students pursuing Discernment are strongly encouraged to attend. Part-time students are encouraged to attend Wednesday afternoon Formation Group in their first, third, and fifth year.

The Formation program for Summer Distance MDiv students includes daily worship, occasional community activities on campus during the Summer term, and a series of online reflections and discussions during two of the five years of the program. A weekend retreat caps off the Formation program during the final summer of the program.

United Church Candidates studying for the MDiv at AST receive financial support from Pine Hill Divinity Hall. Full-time students who perceive the need for employment for financial or other reasons are required to discuss this with the Chair of the United Church Faculty Group and the Executive Director of Pine Hill Divinity Hall. Employment often necessitates a change in course load.

Students seeking a paid student ministry position in a pastoral charge must also secure permission from their Candidacy Board before accepting the position. Summer Distance MDiv program candidates should refer to the current Summer Distance MDiv Program Information and Handbook, which you can download from the "Master of Divinity Summer Distance" page on the AST website, for information related to arranging your student ministry learning site.

Additional information about United Church Formation is available through the UCC Formation Director, the Rev. Dr. Ross Bartlett (902.429.6495 or rbartlett@asttheology.ns.ca).

MASTER OF ARTS (THEOLOGY AND RELIGIOUS STUDIES)

This program brings together two complementary programs: Theology (AST) and the study of religion (Saint Mary's University). Graduate students will experience a diverse and rich field of expertise in the study of theology and religion.

Students have a unique opportunity to explore and articulate the relationship between Theology and the study of religion, especially as the fields have evolved both within Canada and internationally. The relationship allows Theology and the study of religion students to be enriched with the methods and perspectives each field offers. The result is an exceptional preparation for doctoral work that is unique in North America. Students can shape their own focus, specializing in the multicultural, religiously plural realities of Canada, the Americas, and elsewhere, and choose to study within traditional theological areas, such as biblical studies, systematic theology, ethics, and pastoral theology.

MA Program Designs

Students may pursue a thesis-based MA (Theology and Religion) designed as preparation for doctoral programs, or a course-only program designed to develop theoretical and applied skills for work in churches and other institutions as teachers, pastoral care workers, lay chaplains and so on, or for leadership within the broader society. In their application, students must specify which stream they seek to pursue. Students accepted into the thesis stream may transfer into the course-only stream. To do so, you must seek the approval of the MA program director, who will notify the Registrar.

MA Financial Assistance

Entrance scholarships are awarded annually to MA (Theology and Religion) students with outstanding academic backgrounds. All MA applicants are considered for these awards. No additional application is required. AST also has a needs-based bursary fund. Bursary application forms, along with other details, are available on the AST website:

www.astheology.ns.ca/future/financial-assistance.

MA Admission Requirements

The academic requirement for admission to this program as a first degree in theology (thesis or course-only) is a Bachelor's degree in any discipline from a university recognized by the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada, the Council for Higher Education in the United States, or a similarly recognized institution. You have maintained a minimum 'B+' average in your undergraduate program.

The academic requirement for admission to this program as a specialization in theology (thesis or course-only) is a Bachelor's degree in theology, a Bachelor's degree in a cognate discipline, or a Master of Divinity degree from a university recognized by the Association of Universities and Colleges in Canada, the Council for Higher Education in the United States, or a similarly recognized institution, with a minimum 'B+' average.

If you do not hold a Bachelor's degree, we encourage you to apply to AST's Bachelor of Theology program.

MA Admissions Process

Submit the MA program application form, a letter of intent providing information on your area of interest, your goals, and how this degree program will help you meet them, a sample of your academic writing (at least 10 pages) to the Registrar's office by the published application deadlines and an $80 non-refundable application fee directly to the Business Office (businessoffice@asttheology.ns.ca). Request one official transcript from each of your previous and current post-secondary education institutions to be sent directly to the Registrar. Three confidential letters of reference are required and must be sent directly to the Registrar by your referees. Visit the Applications & Course Registration page on the AST website for more information. www.asttheology.ns.ca/future/application-registration-forms

The Academic Dean and the MA Program Director will review your application and, if successful, you will receive an admission letter from the Dean. If not, you will receive notification that your application was unsuccessful.

MA (Theology and Religious Studies) Program Requirements

Students in the MA (Theology and Religion) program fulfilling the requirements for a first degree in theology (holding a Bachelor's degree in any discipline) are required to complete 16 course credits and a thesis (valued at 2 course credits). For a course-only degree, you are required to complete 18 course credits.

Students in the MA (Theology and Religion) program fulfilling the requirements for a specialization in theology (holding a Bachelor's degree in theology or in a cognate discipline, or the MDiv) are required to complete 6 course credits and a thesis (valued at 2 course credits). For a course-only degree, you are required to complete 8 course credits.

A minimum grade of B- is required for GTR 6000. (See "Evaluation and Assessment at AST" under Academic Assessment for more information.)

To qualify for graduation with the MA degree, you must maintain an overall B+ average in your course work and your thesis (if you are in the thesis stream).

MA Required and Elective Course Distribution

All MA (Theology and Religion) students are required to take GTR 6000 Theory and Methods in Theology and Religion, valued at one credit. Exemptions from this course are not permitted. This course should be taken within the first 3 credits of the MA program.

One course must be taken at Saint Mary's University at the graduate level. This course must be approved by your Faculty Advisor. Students taking the MA as a second degree in theology (specialization) must take at least 1 course in biblical studies, pastoral theology, systematic theology, and historical theology. Students taking the MA as a first degree in theology must take at least 2 courses in biblical studies, pastoral theology, systematic theology, and church history. (MA students who have already taken GTR 6000 valued at two credits in previous academic years are not required to take an elective at Saint Mary's University, but may opt to do so.)

MA Thesis and Defense

Thesis-stream students should consult with the MA Program Director early in their program regarding the formation of a thesis examination committee, the preparation and submission of the thesis proposal and the thesis, as well as procedures for the examination of the thesis.

Your thesis and major papers must follow the guidelines in The Chicago Manual of Style (17th ed. University of Chicago Press, 2017) and must abide by AST's Inclusive Language Policy. Your thesis must be between 20000 and 25000 words in length.

MA Capstone Project

Students in the course-only MA stream will complete a capstone project in their final year of study. This capstone project is an extended essay (5000-10000 words) which will be both submitted as part of course requirements for a final year course and presented publicly alongside the MDiv Graduate Projects. Students should discuss the capstone project with their faculty advisor during their first semester in the MA program. When students identify the course in which they would like to complete their capstone project, they must gain authorization from both the course instructor and the MA director in order to proceed.

MA Language Requirements

Candidates for the MA (Theology and Religion) in the thesis stream (specialization and first degree in theology) must demonstrate a reading proficiency in a modern language other than English, normally French or German. You may request to be examined in another modern language if it is more relevant to your specialty. You are expected to pass the modern language requirements by the end of your second term. Exemption from these requirements is granted if you have proof of reading competence in the language. The acceptable standard of proficiency is the equivalent of a "B" grade or higher in a 2000 level undergraduate language course at Saint Mary's University. You can demonstrate this standard by completing a university course or by an examination administered by Atlantic School of Theology. If your degree concentrates on Biblical Studies, you must have completed two full university courses of ancient Greek, Latin, or Hebrew with a minimum B grade prior to graduation from the MA (Theology and Religion) program.

Students in the course-only stream are not required to meet the modern language requirement.

MA Program Duration

Students enrolled in the MA (Theology and Religion) full-time as a first degree in theology (thesis or course-only) will typically take two years to complete the program (18 credits). Students enrolled in the first degree in theology who require more than eight years to complete the requirements of the program (18 credits) must request and receive permission from the AST Senate for an extension.

Typically, the program will take three academic terms (normally, Fall, Winter and Summer) for full-time specialization in theology thesis students to complete (8 credits), or two terms for full-time course-only students (8 credits). Three terms offer you two terms of course work and one term to complete your thesis. Students enrolled in the specialization in theology (thesis or course-only) who require more than six years to complete the requirements of the program (8 credits) must request and receive permission from the AST Senate for an extension.

Registration and Standing in MA Program

Students must register for courses and thesis credits during the regular registration. To maintain standing in the program, part-time students must register for a minimum of two course credits every academic year; and full-time students must register for a minimum of six course credits every academic year.

During the thesis component of the MA (Theology and Religion) program, you will be classified as a full-time student only when you register and pay for two thesis credits in one academic year. Full-time status during the thesis component will be authenticated for one year only.

If you have completed your course work, registered, and paid for two thesis credits but have not completed the thesis component, you must register during the regular registration periods through the Registrar's Office for a Thesis Continuation and pay a Thesis Continuation Fee of $563 per academic year to maintain standing in the program.

MA students may register for a Leave of Absence and pay a fee of $112. This will allow you to take an authorized leave for up to one year.

Master of Arts (Theology and Religion) Program Goals

The following program goals were approved by the AST Senate in October 2018.

1. Facilitate students' advanced study in the theological disciplines.
2. Prepare students for doctoral level programs, including the opportunity to study Greek and Hebrew languages.
3. Prepare students to work in specific roles, such as chaplaincy, pastoral care, education, public service, and non-ordained leadership roles.
4. Provide students with a unique opportunity to explore and articulate the relationship between Theology and the study of religion, including an understanding of religious pluralism.

Desired Student Outcomes

1. Students will attain the capacity for critical engagement with complex theological issues.
2. Students seeking to pursue doctoral work will:
 - a. produce work in the program that will enable placement in doctoral programs;
 - b. have engaged a breadth of material in their studies that prepares them for discussion in academic settings;
 - c. have prepared for public presentations at conferences and colloquia by making high level presentations within their course of study;
3. Students seeking to serve in church-related and public service contexts will:
 - a. have skills crucial for performing key roles in those settings, such as capacities for self-reflection, critical analysis, and leadership;
 - b. demonstrate intellectual virtues such as compassion, integrity, imagination, and courage.
4. Students will have acquired knowledge about the relationship between Theology and Religious Studies in Canada and internationally. They will have critically assessed the nature of this relationship and cognate relationships, such as those between the church and secular public bodies.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM IN THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

The Graduate Certificate Program in Theological Studies (GCTS) is a 10-credit/10-course program. Requirements may be met entirely via online courses. The program parallels the first year of the MDiv or MA degree program and may serve as a time of discernment for further academic or professional needs. You must maintain an overall B average to qualify for the certificate. Credits obtained in the program may be brought forward to a graduate degree program at AST and will be subject to the admission requirements of that program. Courses assigned C grades are not transferable to any AST graduate program.

To complete the GCTS program you will need to complete at least 10 term credits distributed as follows:

- Two foundation courses in biblical studies (BF 1001 and BF 1002);
- One foundation course in theological studies (TF 1000); and
- Seven elective credits in biblical area, theological area (systematic theology, church history or ethics), pastoral areas (including WF 1000), or Research Methods (RM 1000).

While Research Methods and Practices (RM 1000) is not a requirement for the GCTS Program, it is a prerequisite for all 3000-level elective courses.

In the GCTS program, you may concentrate in any of the areas of biblical, theological (systematic theology, church history or ethics), or pastoral studies, but may not take more than five courses in any one area. The required Foundation courses will be included in the maximum number of courses in a subject area.

GCTS students may take up to five years to complete the program. If you are admitted to the MDiv degree program after completing the Graduate Certificate, you will be permitted five years to complete the MDiv requirements. If you are admitted to the MA (Theology and Religion) degree program after completing the Graduate Certificate you will be permitted six years to complete the MA (Theology and Religion) as a first degree in theology.

You may apply for admission to a degree program at any time during the Graduate Certificate program. If you have not completed the Graduate Certificate requirements and are admitted to the MDiv program, you will have six years from the date of admission to the MDiv program to complete the remaining MDiv program requirements.

If you have not completed the Graduate Certificate requirements and are admitted to the MA (Theology and Religion) program, you have five years from the date of admission to complete the MA (Theology and Religion) as a specialization in theology or seven years to complete the MA (Theology and Religion) as a first degree in theology.

A GCTS student seeking admission to the MA (Theology and Religion) program at AST must have an earned Bachelor's degree from an accredited university with a minimum B+ average and maintain an overall B+ average or higher in their GCTS course work to be considered for admission to the degree.

GCTS Admission Requirements

To be admitted to the GCTS you will need a Bachelor's degree from an accredited university, with a minimum of 'B' average (or grade point average equivalent). If you do not hold a Bachelor's degree, we encourage you to apply to AST's Bachelor of Theology program.

GCTS Admissions Process

Submit the GCTS program application form and a letter of intent to the Registrar's office by the published application deadlines and an $80 non-refundable application fee directly to the Business Office (businessoffice@astheology.ns.ca). Request one official transcript from each of your previous and current post-secondary education institutions to be sent directly to the Registrar. Visit the Applications & Course Registration page on the AST website for more information: astheology.ns.ca/future/application-registration-forms

If successful, you will receive an admission letter from the Dean. If not, you will receive notification that your application was unsuccessful.

A GCTS student may register for a Leave of Absence and pay a fee of $112. This will allow you to take an authorized leave for up to one year.

SPECIAL STUDENT STATUS

The following definition is applicable for Academic Year 2023-24 only:

A Special Student is a student who meets degree or certificate admission requirements, is admitted to study at AST, but is not admitted to a degree or certificate program. Courses completed as a Special Student may be transferred to a degree or certificate program at AST at a later date (as applicable). After 5 courses, a Special Student should contact the Registrar to apply to one of the programs (GCTS, MA, MDiv, or BTh). A maximum of 7 courses may be taken as a Special Student.

Please note that Special Students are not eligible for provincial or federal student loan funding because they are not admitted (or not yet admitted) to an approved degree or certificate program.

Special Student Admission Requirements

To be admitted as a Special Student (graduate level of study) you will need a Bachelor's degree from an accredited university, with a minimum of 'B' average (or grade point average equivalent). If you do not hold a Bachelor's degree, please apply to AST's Bachelor of Theology program.

Special Student Admissions Process

Submit the Special Student application form and a letter of intent to the Registrar's office by the published application deadlines and an $80 non-refundable application fee directly to the Business Office (businessoffice@astheology.ns.ca). Diploma Programs

AST offers three specialized diploma programs: the Diploma in Missional Leadership; the Diploma in the New Evangelization in the Roman Catholic Church; and the Diploma in Theological Studies. Completion of these programs leads to graduation at AST's Convocation celebrations and the University's attestation of the completion of the study of certain specialized areas. Please note that completion of these programs does not result in transferrable, transcriptable degree credits. Visit the Diploma Programs webpage (www.astheology.ns.ca/future/diploma-programs) on the AST website for more information.

NOTE: The Diploma in Youth Ministry (DYM) was discontinued in 2020. Previously enrolled DYM students have until April 19th, 2024 to complete the program requirements.

DIPLOMA IN MISSIONAL LEADERSHIP (DML)

The first cohort of DML students graduated in May 2023.

A second cohort of DML students is being organized for 2023-25. For further information, visit the AST website www.astheology.ns.ca/future/diploma-programs.html or contact the Academic Dean.

DIPLOMA IN THE NEW EVANGELIZATION PROGRAM (DNE)

From Pope Francis in Rome to Archbishop Mancini in Halifax, the New Evangelization is a core focus of Catholicism today. It is an unprecedented invigoration of Roman Catholic laity, calling everyone to witness their faith, engage the culture, and propose Christ in a coherent and joyful way. This program is designed to prepare Catholic laity for this mission.

The DNE Program will enable you to be an agent of New Evangelization by:

- Giving you opportunities to learn about the core of the Roman Catholic faith tradition, showing how and why it is relevant and compelling in the 21st century;
- Forming and equipping you as a leader within the New Evangelization;
- Giving you skills to engage scripture in coherent ways; and
- Offering apologetic resources that enable you to engage others about the faith, fully informed of the challenges you may face.

DNE Program Structure

The Diploma Program is a three-year program consisting of six learning units. You may begin the program in September or January of any year, then continue until you have completed all six units.

The six learning units take place on AST's campus or via the internet in real-time: one seminar of two-and-a-half hours per week, over 12 weeks.

Summer Intensive Courses

AST offers several credit courses during the Summer term (mid-June to late July) on campus. Graduates of AST and other theological schools and all who qualify for admission may register for these courses (for credit or audit). Some Summer term courses are also available to Continuing Education participants.

Lecture Series

AST offers a variety of Continuing Education opportunities through the following events. Members of the public are warmly welcome to attend.

The Pollok Lectures were begun in the early 1900s to honour Dr. Allan Pollok, a former principal of Presbyterian College (the predecessor of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, a founding party of AST). The endowment for the original lecture series is now available to AST through the Board of Governors of Pine Hill Divinity Hall.

The Mackinnon Lectures were established in memory of The Rev. Dr. Clarence Mackinnon and The Rev. Dr. Ian Mackinnon, former professors of Presbyterian College and Pine Hill Divinity Hall. Dr. Clarence Mackinnon was the Principal of the College and subsequently of the Hall. Dr. Ian Mackinnon taught in the field of church history at Pine Hill. The endowment income for the lecture series is made available to AST through the Board of Governors of Pine Hill Divinity Hall.

The Nicholson Lectures were established in the early 1980s in memory of Dr. C.M. Nicholson, who was Principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall from 1946 to 1971. The memorial fund was established by the Pine Hill Alumni Association, which has committed itself to the establishment of permanent funding for the lectures. The endowment income for the Nicholson Lectures is made available through the Board of Governors of Pine Hill Divinity Hall.

The Rev. C.D. Ed Aitken Memorial Workshops recognize Ed Aitken (1939-1995), who served with dignity and distinction in many areas: as a dedicated pastor in Sheet Harbour and Bedford, Nova Scotia, and in Moncton, New Brunswick; as Director of Continuing Education, Professor of Homiletics, Vice President, and President of AST in Halifax; and as a wise counsellor for many ecclesial boards and committees. As a memorial, and to further his high standards of proclamation, Pine Hill Divinity Hall inaugurated this workshop in homiletics in 1998.

PT 3149 (HYB) Dying, Death and Grief (W24)

This is a course about living. It is about how people respond to life altering circumstances. The class will begin at the point of terminal or life-threatening diagnosis, or a prognosis in which death is a very real possibility. We will then journey with people—the terminally ill, their families and communities—during this living-dying chapter of life. A companion during this study will be the changing face of grief. As we progress, we will take time to touch on other emotional states such as anger, guilt, and anxiety. We will explore the nature of physical and emotional pain and its relationship to suffering. This is a profoundly spiritual sojourn into places of chaos, peace, fear, and hope.

Notice regarding Revisions

Descriptions of prerequisites, teaching methods, and requirements are summary statements only and are subject to revision. Changes may be made in course offerings and instructors due to registration numbers, ongoing curriculum revision and faculty availability. The alpha and numeric designations for courses will be used on the timetables. A combination of alpha abbreviations means that the course may be considered in one of the subject areas for degree and certificate program purposes.

External Courses

AST students who wish to take courses at another accredited university toward completion of AST degree or GCTS program requirements require a Letter of Permission from AST (see “Letter of Permission for External Courses” in Academic Policies and Regulations).

Additional Course Offerings and Updates for 2023-2024

For course information not provided in this Calendar and any changes or updates in course offerings, please consult AST’s website. Timetables for each term are available on the AST website.

Clinical (Supervised) Pastoral Education

PT 3901 and PT 3902 AST in conjunction with the Canadian Association for Spiritual Care (CASC) provides unique clinical educational experiences for students. Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is offered in accredited health care settings. The educational methodology is based on praxis pedagogy. Students work closely with patients and staff in a variety of health care settings. They then analyze and theologically examine the experience. Academic credit for Clinical Pastoral Education falls in the area of electives in pastoral theology.

One basic unit of CPE is valued at two (2.0) credits. A unit consists of 400 clinical hours, divided among direct service, supervision, clinical presentations, didactic seminars, and peer group work. Clinical Pastoral Education grounds students in the lived experience of individuals, relational units, and institutions. It is out of these experiences that students are challenged to hone their skills and ask critical questions of themselves and their world while forming their identity as practitioners of spiritual care.

All CPE units registered for credit through AST will form part of a student’s academic record. CPE units will be designated as PT 3901 or PT 3902 on a transcript for the term in which the unit is completed.

In addition to fees payable to the institution providing the CPE program (usually a hospital), students must pay a CPE credit authentication fee to AST. For AST-enrolled students, the fee is $112 per credit. For AST Special Students, the fee is $224 per credit.

Credits for CPE included in AST’s determination of a student’s status as full-time or part-time for student loan purposes are subject to the student loan specifications.

Academic Assessment

Categories of Students

A “Diploma Student” is one who has been admitted to a Diploma program at AST (the Diploma in the New Evangelization program, the Diploma in Theological Studies program, or the Diploma in Missional Leadership program).

An “Undergraduate Student” is one who has been admitted to the Bachelor of Theology program at AST, either full or part-time.

A “Graduate Student” is one who is a registered student in either the MA or MDiv degree program or in the Graduate Certificate in Theological Studies program, either full or part-time.

The following definition is applicable for Academic Year 2023-24 only:

A “Special Student” is a student who meets degree or certificate admission requirements, is admitted to study at AST, but is not admitted to a degree or certificate program. Courses completed as a Special Student may be transferred to a degree or certificate program at AST at a later date (as applicable). After 5 courses, a Special Student should contact the Registrar to apply to one of the programs (GCTS, MA, MDiv, or BTh). A maximum of 7 courses may be taken as a Special Student.

A “Letter of Permission Student” is a student from another university who has the permission of that university to take a course or courses at AST for credit and have them counted in a program at the student’s home university.

Undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in a program at AST must obtain a Letter of Permission from the Registrar of AST to take courses outside AST for credit in their program. For GCTS, MA, and MDiv students, permission will be granted only for courses offered at the Master’s level or higher. Letter of Permission request forms are available on the AST website on the “Students” page.

An “Auditor” is a student admitted and registered in a credit course or non-credit course, but is not seeking credit for the course. To qualify as an auditor, you must meet all the admission requirements of graduate students. An auditor fulfills the class preparation and participation requirements of the course and has the permission of the course instructor to audit the course. AST is currently reviewing this definition and it is subject to change.

A “Continuing Education Participant” is a person who has registered for and participates in a Continuing Education program, event, or course at AST. Continuing Education participants do not receive academic credit for their participation, and their participation is not recorded on a transcript.

Evaluation and Assessment at AST

AST has a responsibility to students, to ecclesial bodies, to the academy, and to society at large to evaluate and assess students' academic performance, their personal maturity, and professional skills relevant to the qualification sought.

The admissions procedures of AST include gathering evaluative material which forms part of a student's file while at AST. In some cases, ecclesial bodies produce evaluative material which is sent to AST and included in a student's file.

Course names, final grades, academic term and pertinent registrarial details appear on a student's official academic record.

Academic, professional, and personal evaluations (as appropriate) appear on the standard evaluation forms for courses in Ministry Action Program, Supervised Ministry Practicum, Supervised Ministry Experience, and Clinical Pastoral Education. The Faculty Council reflects on students' academic, personal, and professional development at its regular meetings. Once in the Fall term and once in the Winter term, the Council assesses each AST undergraduate and graduate student via standardized evaluation instruments. Any concerns raised in this evaluation process are communicated to the student by his or her Faculty Advisor. The evaluation of students in this twice-yearly process is undertaken in relation to the goals and outcomes of the program in which the student is enrolled.

From time to time, in classes and in other settings, there may be informal evaluation, including peer evaluation of academic, personal, and professional progress and qualities. There are also evaluations and assessments of candidates/postulants for ordination if required, sponsored, or conducted by a student's ecclesial judicatory.

AST reserves the right to require a student to undertake additional assessment and evaluation as deemed appropriate to the qualifications sought for admission or continued registration at AST. AST may require evaluations or courses (including remedial work) as appropriate in order for a student to continue in studies at AST.

Students are given an opportunity in each course and at other times to evaluate courses, instructors, curricula, and programs offered by AST. Students are also represented on the Board of Governors, the Senate, the Worship and Chaplaincy Committee, the Senate Curriculum Committee, and the Student Union.

Grading System for AST Diploma Learning Units (DML, DNE, DTS)

P 'Pass' The student has submitted sufficient assignments of a suitable quality to complete the learning unit.

F 'Failure' The student has not submitted sufficient assignments of a suitable quality to complete the learning unit.

Grading System for AST Undergraduate Courses (BTh)

A+ (90-100%) 'Excellent'

A (85-89%) 'Excellent'

A- (80-84%) 'Excellent'

B+ (75-79%) 'Good'

B (70-74%) 'Good'

C (60-69%) 'Satisfactory' While credit is given for the course, the student is encouraged to strengthen their performance in future courses.

D (50-59%) 'Marginal' Credit is given for the course, but this grade indicates that the student's work is of poor quality, and they are in danger of failing future courses without a marked improvement. A reduced course load in future terms is advisable until grades improve.

F (0-49%) 'Failure' No credit is given for the course.

P 'Pass' Credit is given, but no mark is assigned.

W 'Withdrew' This indicates that the student has withdrawn from a course by the deadline to withdraw from courses. There is no academic penalty associated with this designation.

WF 'Withdrawal Failure' This indicates that the student withdrew from the course after the deadline for withdrawal.

INC 'Incomplete' This indicates that an appropriate extension has been granted by the instructor (temporary designation.) When the allowable extension has expired, this designation will be converted to a final letter grade.

FP 'Failure due to Plagiarism' A student will receive this grade only after proven incident(s) of plagiarism in a course.

Grading System for AST Graduate Courses (Graduate programs)

At the outset of each course, the instructor defines the course's objectives, requirements, and the basis of evaluation in the syllabus. Final marks and composite marks are designated according to letter grades with corresponding values as noted below.

A+ (94-100%) 'Exceptional' A superior performance with consistent evidence of a comprehensive, incisive grasp of all aspects of the subject matter; a very wide knowledge base; insightful critical evaluation and analysis of the material; an exceptional capacity for original, creative, and/or logical thinking; an exceptional ability to organize, analyse, synthesize, and to express thoughts fluently.

A (87-93%) 'Outstanding' A comprehensive grasp of the subject matter, outstanding evidence of original thought; sound critical evaluation of the material; an excellent ability to organize, analyse, synthesize and to express thoughts; mastery of an extensive knowledge base.

A- (80-86%) 'Excellent' All the qualities of a B-level performance and an excellent capacity for original, creative, and/or logical thinking; excellent ability to organize, analyse, synthesize, and integrate ideas; broad knowledge base in the subject matter.

B+ (77-79%) 'Good' A good performance with substantial knowledge of the subject matter; a very good understanding of the relevant issues; familiarity with relevant literature and techniques; good ability to organize, analyse, and examine the material in a constructive and critical manner.

B (73-76%) 'Acceptable' A generally adequate performance with a good knowledge of the subject matter; a fair understanding of relevant issues; some ability to work with relevant literature and techniques; some ability to develop solutions to difficult problems related to the subject material.

B- (70-72%) 'Marginally Acceptable' Some familiarity with the subject material; some understanding. Satisfactory understanding of relevant issues; attempts to solve moderately difficult problems related to the subject material in a critical and analytical manner are only partially successful.

C (60-69%) 'Unsatisfactory' A C grade indicates unsatisfactory academic performance. At the discretion of the instructor, supplemental work may be negotiated to upgrade the mark to a B range.

A graduate student may carry two C grades without penalty in all courses except the following:

- Foundations Courses
- Ministry Action Program
- Supervised Ministry Practicum
- Supervised Ministry Experience
- Graduate Project and Seminar
- Theory and Methods in Theology and Religion (GTR 6000)

In these courses, a minimum grade of B- is required to graduate.

A graduate student who receives a C or F in a Foundation course, GTR 6000, or in a course required for the Testamur (United Church of Canada requirement for ordination) must repeat the course to achieve a B- or better, and cannot use the C grade to meet prerequisite requirements for advanced courses. If the student repeats one of these courses and receives a B- or better, the previous C grade remains on the transcript and is counted toward the total of unsatisfactory grades that may lead to academic dismissal. Credit will be given only once for any course. (See Policy on Unsatisfactory Academic Performance in the “Academic Policies and Regulations” section later in this Calendar.)

F (0-59%) ‘Failure’ Student has not grasped subject matter; does not understand issues involved; cannot work with relevant literature. (See Policy on Unsatisfactory Academic Performance in the “Academic Policies and Regulations” section later in this Calendar.)

P ‘Pass’ Credit is awarded, but no mark is assigned.

W ‘Withdrew’ This designation indicates that the student has withdrawn from a course after the last day to make course changes and by the deadline to withdraw from courses as set out in the Academic Dates. There is no academic penalty associated with this designation.

WF ‘Withdrawal Failure’ This indicates that the student withdrew from the course after the deadline for withdrawal and did not complete the requirements for the course.

INC ‘Incomplete’ This designation indicates that an appropriate extension has been granted by the instructor in accordance with the Late Submission of Assignments Policy. The designation “INC” is a temporary designation. When the allowable extension has expired, this designation will be converted to a final letter grade.

FP ‘Failure due to Plagiarism’ A student will receive this grade only after proven incident(s) of plagiarism in a course.

Academic Policies and Regulations

The following descriptions are a summary of policies governing academic life at AST. For further information or clarification please consult the AST website or contact the Registrar's Office.

Accessibility

AST has developed an Accessibility Plan. It is available on the AST website.

Aegrotat Standing

Aegrotat standing indicates that a student has gained credit (but not a mark) for a course without having completed all course requirements due to ill health.

Conditions: The student must complete at least one-half of the course in the applicable academic term. The instructor must judge on the basis of performance that the student has fulfilled the minimum requirements for a pass in the course. Aegrotat standing is given only for reasons of ill health.

Certification in writing is required from an appropriate health professional: (a) of illness, and (b) that completion of the remaining required work would be inadvisable. Aegrotat standing may not be given for more than 5.5 credits. Aegrotat Standing is noted on a student's academic record by the notation "Aegrotat" under the grade column, and appropriate credit noted under the credit column.

Application: Students who wish to receive Aegrotat standing for a course or courses must submit a letter addressed to the Academic Dean requesting Aegrotat standing. The letter must list the course or courses for which Aegrotat standing is requested, clearly state the basis for the request, and include as an enclosure the original certification in writing from an appropriate health official confirming the student's illness or condition, and that completion of the remaining course work would be inadvisable.

Deadline: The student's letter of request for Aegrotat Standing must be received by the Academic Dean no later than the last day of the applicable term. Applications for Aegrotat Standing received after the last day of the applicable term will be denied, unless extraordinary circumstances prevail.

Decision: If the Academic Dean is satisfied with the student's request, the Dean will consult with the course instructor. If the course instructor judges that the student has completed at least one-half of the course and that on the basis of performance the student has fulfilled the minimum requirements for a pass in the course, the Dean will authorize the course instructor to assign "AEG" for the student on their transcript.

Advanced Standing Policy

[The following policy was approved by Senate on 27 April 2022.]

Advanced standing means that a student is exempt from taking a specific required course. In its place, an elective course in the same subject area must be taken. Students must request advanced standing at the time of application on the basis of prior studies that are recorded on a university transcript. In the case of graduate courses, prior studies must have been at the graduate level.

In the case of RM 1000 Research Methods and Practices, students in this course learn foundational methodologies and practices for research in theology, including information literacy; citation style and standards; plagiarism and academic integrity; and the competencies required for qualitative research methods including the research traditions such as basic Qualitative Research, Phenomenology, Ethnography, Narrative Analysis, and Qualitative Case Study. Requests for advanced standing in RM 1000 are considered on a case-by-case basis. If a student has previously taken a course that fulfills all of the elements noted above, the student may send a written request for exemption, official transcript, and copy of the course syllabus to the Registrar when applying to their program. (Exemption for MDiv students must include evidence of such a course taken at the graduate level.) Alternatively, the student may send a request to the Registrar to write a challenge exam in May or August.

In exceptional circumstances, variants to the Advanced Standing Policy will be considered by the Academic Dean on a case by case basis.

Attendance Policy

In all courses 100% attendance at all classes or related events is expected. Instructors have the right to require students with cumulative absence totalling one-sixth of the course (two weeks or equivalent) to demonstrate a grasp of the material missed. Grades for participation will be reduced for those students who are consistently late or who miss classes. Advance notice of absence from class to the instructor is expected of all students in a course.

Audio or Video Recording Policy

No audio or video recording of classes and discussion groups, common worship, denominational worship, and other campus events (whether online or in person) is permitted without explicit permission from all parties involved. Different regulations may apply to outside persons or groups given permission to use AST facilities, including the Chapel.

Audit Policy

[The following policy was approved by Senate on 27 April 2022.]

An auditor is an AST student enrolled in an AST course but not seeking credit for the course. Only students admitted to studies at AST may audit courses, and must pay the applicable fees.

Auditors may attend all classes. Auditors may not write tests or examinations, nor submit other forms of work for evaluation unless explicitly permitted by the instructor.

A maximum of 5 auditors may register per course. Registration priority is given to students registering for academic credit. Auditor registrations are excluded from the calculation used to determine class size limits or cancellation of courses due to low course enrolment. Not all courses are suitable for auditing.

Audited courses are not eligible for credit. Audited courses appear on the auditor's academic record with "AUD" (or similar) in the grade column and "O" in the credit column. Audited courses are not counted into a student's maximum course load.

Audit to Credit and Credit to Audit

Course registration changes from audit to credit must be made not later than the last day for course changes as set out for the term in the list of dates for the current Academic Year. The student will be responsible for the appropriate tuition fee for the change from audit to credit at the time of change of registration. Moving from audit to credit status is only available to students in degree programs or the GCTS.

Course registration changes from credit to audit must be made 30 days prior to the last day of classes in the term (or the 7th day of a Summer term course). In this case, tuition will not be refunded.

Course changes from audit to credit and/or credit to audit must be made using a Course Leave and Enter Form (available on the AST website on the “Students” page) and approved by the student’s Faculty Advisor and the instructor of the course in question.

See “Course and Program Changes” for deadlines to change course registration from audit to credit and from credit to audit.

Complaints regarding Accreditation Standards of the Association of Theological Schools

A complaint regarding Atlantic School of Theology’s adherence and fulfillment of ATS Standards is to be made in writing and addressed to the President. The complaint is logged by the Executive Assistant to the President and retained in the President’s office (or archive) in a locked filing cabinet. A copy of the complaint is provided to the Management Advisory Committee and to the Chair of the Board of Governors. Within 30 days, the President convenes a working group to investigate the complaint, consisting of the President, the Academic Dean, and one member of the Board of Governors. One or more staff or faculty members may be added to the working group if needed. The working group investigates the complaint. The complainant is invited to speak to the working group as part of the investigation. The President then responds in writing to the complainant within 60 days of the receipt of the written complaint. Copies of the written response are provided to the working group, the Management Advisory Committee, the chair of the Board of Governors, and added to the original complaint in the file held by the President’s office. In cases in which the President is implicated in the complaint, the President will be excluded from access to the complaint and adjudicating the complaint, and the President’s role will be fulfilled by the Academic Dean. In cases in which Academic Dean is implicated in the complaint, the Academic Dean will be excluded from adjudicating the complaint, and the President will appoint a tenured faculty member to fulfill the Academic Dean’s role.

Course Changes and Course Withdrawals

All course changes (adding or withdrawing) other than those recorded on the Course Indicator Form must be made through the Course Leave and Enter Form (available on the AST website on the “Students” page).

Students who register late for courses are responsible for the full tuition and associated fees for the course. (See Academic Dates.)

The last day students may withdraw from a Fall or Winter term course and receive a notation “W” on their academic record is 30 days prior to the last day of classes. Withdrawal after that deadline will result in a “WF” for a grade.

The last day students may withdraw from a Summer term course and receive a notation of “W” on their academic record is by 5:00 p.m. on the 7th day of class of a Summer term course. Withdrawal after the 7th day of class of a Summer term course will result in a “WF” for a grade.

If an exception is desired, students must make a request to the Dean in writing. Exceptions for reasons of health must enclose or attach original certification in writing from an appropriate health official confirming the student's illness or condition.

Overdue Accounts

Students who have an outstanding balance owing to AST are not permitted to register for subsequent courses until the outstanding balance is paid in full. Student accounts must be paid in full prior to graduation. Unpaid accounts will result in the withholding of all academic records, certifications to ecclesial bodies, and degree or diploma parchments. Please ensure that your account is settled with the Business Office before the end of each academic term.

Course Registration Limit

Theological studies are intense and demanding. They require time for reflection and integration, as well as time for study. Degree and GCTS students are strongly advised not to exceed 5 credits/audited courses in each of the Fall or Winter terms, and 3 credits/audited courses in the Summer term. These limits are considered to be 100% of a full course load. With the permission of their Faculty Advisor, students may register for an overload of up to 1 additional credit or audit in any term.

Deadline for Completion of the Requirements for a Degree or Certificate

Students must complete all requirements for a degree, certificate, or diploma no later than forty-eight hours before the meeting of Senate which approves candidates for degrees, certificates, and diplomas in the spring of intended graduation. The names of students not fulfilling this requirement will not appear before the Senate for confirmation of graduation and will not be recognized as graduates at Convocation.

Directed Studies

Directed Studies are meant primarily to provide course credits needed by AST students who, in their final year of studies, require certain courses to graduate. A secondary purpose of Directed Studies is to permit AST students to pursue an area of research that is not normally covered by the AST curriculum. A Directed Study can be developed in conjunction with a special learning opportunity such as attending a conference. Each Directed Study is normally counted as one course credit.

Students wishing to undertake a Directed Study should consult with their Faculty Advisor and review how it will assist in meeting degree requirements and learning goals. Faculty Advisors will provide students with a guide, "How to develop a Directed Study proposal," which is also available from the Academic Office.

For any one student's program, the maximum number of Directed Studies is three (3). This applies to all programs. A fourth Directed Study is permissible as a Formation Credit for students not within AST's Founding denominations; for students requiring a Directed Study in order to undertake an advanced language course; or under extenuating circumstances (e.g. illness); for a maximum of four (4) Directed Studies in any one program. For students with more than 3 Directed Studies on their transcript as of June 1, 2021, all credits will be recognized as valid, but no further Directed Studies may be organized unless they arise due to illness, for advanced language studies, or as a Formation credit as noted above.

Extracurricular Responsibilities

Students enrolled full-time in studies at AST and who also have significant extracurricular responsibilities (other studies, employment, volunteer work etc.) that inhibit effective full-time studies should consider changing their status to part-time. An appropriate profile for part-time studies should be discussed with your Faculty Advisor and the relevant denominational Faculty Group (when appropriate). The faculty as a whole and/or the Dean may be involved in establishing the accepted course load.

Inclusive Language Policy

AST seeks to reflect the value of full inclusivity in its language both written and spoken. Inclusive language for human beings (e.g. "humankind" rather than "mankind") is the norm for university-level work across North America and is required of all AST students in their academic work. Assignments that do not meet this standard may need to be revised and resubmitted in order to receive credit. Students also need to be aware of individual churches' policies with respect to gendered language for God. AST seeks to take these policies into account.

Late Submission of Assignments and Extended Deadlines to Complete Course Work

Assignments are due at the time specified by the instructor in the course syllabus. This is to be interpreted as meaning at the class scheduled for the specified day, or, if there is no class that day, by 5:00 p.m. Atlantic time. Instructors must be informed in advance if work will be submitted late. For assignments submitted late, graduated penalties should be levied. Instructors may make exceptions to the above for compassionate reasons, but these do not include claims of excessive workload. Instructors are not obliged to accept work submitted late.

If a student cannot complete the course requirements as outlined in the course syllabus, the student may request from the instructor an extension of time to complete the requirements. If a granted extension prevents the instructor from submitting a final grade, the instructor will indicate the designation "INC" in place of a letter grade by the deadline to submit final grades at the end of the term. Instructors are required to submit a final grade to replace the "INC" as follows: for the Summer term by September 30th; for the Fall term by January 31st; for the Winter term by May 31st. If the instructor does not submit a final grade by these dates, the "INC" will be converted a failing grade, "F". If a student wishes a further extension beyond the dates identified above, the request and reasons must be made in writing to the course instructor, who will then present it to the Faculty Council. Both the instructor and Faculty Council have the right to decline the request for an additional extension. Additional extensions approved by Faculty Council must be confirmed in writing by the Academic Dean to the Registrar within five days of the extension's approval by Faculty Council.

Learning Challenges and Other Special Needs

A student who experiences identified perceptual or learning challenges, or other special needs, must confer, in confidence, with the instructor during the first week of term. Student and instructor will then negotiate and agree on any adaptations to class presentations, assignments, or examinations that may be required to meet the student's needs. Any agreement will be documented and followed by student and instructor in the same way as any other direction in the course syllabus. Any relevant medical or specialists' reports must be furnished to the Academic Dean in advance and will be kept in confidence in the student's academic file. Without such reports, students may not reasonably expect accommodation of their needs.

AST students may make use of the resources, staff, and programs of the Writing Centre and the Fred Smithers Centre for Support for Students with Disabilities at Saint Mary's University to assist them in their academic success.

Letter of Permission for External Courses

In all cases, a student must first discuss plans to take courses offered by an external institution with the student's Faculty Advisor.

Degree and GCTS students enrolled in a program at AST must have written permission to take courses outside AST for credit in their program. For GCTS, MA, and MDiv students, permission will be granted only for courses offered at the Master's level or higher. Students must complete a Letter of Permission form (available on the AST website on the "Students" page) and have it signed by the Registrar.

The maximum number of Letter of Permission courses offered by external institutions that may be counted toward AST graduate programs is eight for BTh students; three for MDiv students; two for MA (Theology and Religion) students; and one for Graduate Certificate in Theological Studies students. An exception to these limits may be made if, in the final year of studies, a specific course is needed for graduation and is not offered by AST.

If a student transfers credits from another institution when first admitted to an AST program, the combined number of transfer credits and subsequent Letter of Permission courses offered by external institutions cannot exceed one-half of the total credits required for the program.

Notification of Disclosure of Personal Information to Statistics Canada and the Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission

Statistics Canada

Statistics Canada is Canada's national statistical agency. As such, Statistics Canada carries out hundreds of surveys each year on a wide range of matters, including education.

It is essential to be able to follow students across time and institutions to understand, for example, the factors affecting enrolment demand at postsecondary institutions. The increased emphasis on accountability for public investment means that it is also important to understand outcomes. In order to conduct such studies, Statistics Canada asks all colleges and universities to provide data on students and graduates. Institutions collect and provide to Statistics Canada student identification information (student's name, student ID number, Social Insurance Number), student contact information (address and telephone number), student demographic characteristics, and enrolment information.

The federal Statistics Act provides the legal authority for Statistics Canada to obtain access to personal information held by educational institutions. The information may be used for statistical purposes only, and the confidentiality provisions of the Statistics Act prevent the information from being released in any way that would identify a student.

Students may contact Statistics Canada via e-mail if they have any questions:

statcan.PSIS-SIEP.statcan@canada.ca.

Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission

The MPHEC collects the data described above on behalf of Statistics Canada. In addition, it archives these data and uses them to generate basic statistics, research products, as well as the sampling frame for its university graduate survey. These activities support its mandate, which is to assist institutions and governments in enhancing the post-secondary learning environment. The legal authority for these activities is provided by the Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission Act. The Act also requires that all data received by the Commission is kept confidential and ensures the protection of personal information.

For more information, consult the MPHEC's Privacy Statement at: www.mphec.ca.

Policy on the Prevention and Resolution of Harassment and Discrimination

Atlantic School of Theology is committed to establishing and maintaining a safe place and community for all who study and work with us. A detailed Policy on the Prevention and Resolution of Harassment and Discrimination is in place at AST and governs behaviour of all who study, work, and live at AST. The policy can be found on the AST website.

Research Ethics Board (REB)

All research involving human subjects undertaken at Canadian universities is subject to ethics review in order to be sure that researchers have taken into consideration any potential risk to participants involved in their research. Researchers must design a procedure for consent in which potential participants are fully informed of possible risks and are not subject to undue pressure in giving their consent to join the research project. Atlantic School of Theology's Research Ethics Board consists of one AST faculty member and four external reviewers. Students undertaking research on human subjects must complete Form 1B "Student Application for Ethics Review of Research Involving Humans" available on the Saint Mary's University website. Students then submit this completed form to their faculty supervisor at AST. Students must indicate on the form that data from their research will be retained for one year and then shredded, destroyed or deleted. Researchers must not store data or personal information about research participants on external flash drives or CDs. The faculty supervisor will submit the researcher's completed Form 1B to the AST faculty member serving on the REB. He or she will send the form to the REB members. The AST faculty member will then report the review of the REB to the faculty supervisor who will discuss it with the student. If necessary, the student may be required to submit a revised form to the REB for final approval. AST faculty who undertake research involving human subjects must also fulfill REB requirements.

Storm Day Policy

Students should exercise their own judgment as to whether or not they appear for class during inclement weather. Whenever possible, notification of AST's closure will be given through the media. Students are expected to make their own decisions regarding the necessity of leaving AST in the event of a sudden storm. If instructors are not able to hold a class due to the weather, the instructor will record a notice as an office telephone message and/or send an email message.

Student Academic Records

Students' academic records, including their application materials and their official AST files, are maintained by the Registrar's Office and are the property of AST. Access to records and release of information from them is governed by AST's policies and laws of the Province of Nova Scotia (Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, S.N.S. 1993, Ch. 5) and the Country of Canada (Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act.)

In addition to the internal policies, procedures, and practices of AST and the requirements of the provincial FOIPOP legislation and the national PIPEDA legislation, as a public institution, AST is mandated to collect and report annually to Statistics Canada through the Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission (MPHEC). For more information, please see "Notification of Disclosure of Personal Information to Statistics Canada and the Maritime Provinces Higher Education Commission" in Academic Policies and Regulations.

International students also should be aware that AST is required to report on international student enrolment status to Citizenship and Immigration Canada. For more information, please visit their website at: www.cic.gc.ca.

AST's Student Records Policy is available at the Registrar's Office. Requests for access to student academic records are directed to the Registrar's Office.

Termination of Studies by a Student

Students taking courses or enrolled in programs of AST may wish or be required by circumstances to terminate their studies before their courses or programs are completed. In all cases the Registrar must be notified, in writing, by the student. Termination of studies begins on the day the Registrar is notified.

When a student terminates studies at AST by transfer to another institution, it rests with the other institution to determine how many credits completed at AST may be transferred. When a student voluntarily withdraws from courses or programs after the last day to withdraw from courses without academic penalty in the Summer, Fall, or Winter terms, the student is responsible for all fees (including tuition and associated fees) incurred by academic registration for the term of the withdrawal and may be responsible to AST for other fees. Students who withdraw after the last day to withdraw from courses without academic penalty in the Summer, Fall, or Winter terms because of sickness, or other reasons, are subject to the regulations governing course changes and course withdrawals.

Textbooks

Students are responsible for locating and purchasing their own books for all courses. AST does not have a bookstore and does not order books for purchase. To find the list of books you will need for your courses, consult the “Students” page on the AST website, and click on “Textbooks.” Alternatively, contact the course instructor for details.

Thesis

An MDiv student wishing to write a thesis must discuss the thesis topic and a potential thesis director with the student’s Faculty Advisor. Note carefully which degree credits will be fulfilled by the thesis (Foundations courses cannot be fulfilled via a thesis). If the Faculty Advisor is in agreement, and a thesis director has agreed to supervise the work, the student will write “Thesis” and the number of credits (maximum 2) on the Course Indicator Form at the time of registration.

See “Thesis and Defense” in the MA (Theology and Religion) program requirements section for guidelines for MA (Theology and Religion) thesis proposal submission.

At the time of printing, a thesis option is not available to BTh students.

Students preparing a thesis for any program at AST are required to submit their theses in final form prior to March 1st in the year of intended graduation according to the schedule of dates as published in the Calendar. Once accepted and passed by the examiners, one fully corrected, unbound copy of the thesis is to be deposited in AST Library by the end of the Winter term. The AST Library does not arrange for binding of personal copies of theses. In lieu of a paper copy, students can submit a fully corrected PDF copy for inclusion with the online Atlantic School of Theology Theses collection accessible through the Saint Mary’s University Institutional Repository.

Styles for theses and major papers must follow the conventions in The Chicago Manual of Style (17th ed. University of Chicago Press, 2017). Theses must also abide by the Inclusive Language Policy.

Transfer of Credits into AST

AST may accept up to one-half of the total credits required for a degree program in transfer from another recognized university into AST. Courses considered for transfer must be earned at a recognized university or accredited theological school, earned at the equivalent level of study (undergraduate or graduate) or higher, received a grade of B- or higher, and be consistent with AST's curriculum. Each course proposed for transfer of credit is considered on its own merit. Transfer courses must not have been used for credit in another completed degree program. Academic credit—not marks—is accepted in transfer.

Transfer credit assessment should be requested by the applicant at the time of program application. AST reserves the right not to assess a request for credit transfer if the request was not made at the time of program application.

To assess credits for transfer you will need to send to AST's Registrar a request indicating the course(s) you wish to have assessed for transfer into AST, and an individual, scanned PDF of the syllabus of each such course.

Your request and the course syllabus PDF must be sent in one email message to the Registrar. The course number must be included in the PDF document name (e.g. SAB2261H.pdf).

You will need to arrange for your official transcript to be sent directly from the university where the courses were completed to the Registrar at AST. Only courses with final grades can be assessed for transfer.

All courses intended for transfer are reviewed by the Dean and Faculty for suitability for the program. Processing time is dependent on the number of courses being requested for assessment and the availability and schedule of the Dean, Faculty, and Registrar.

Please note that academic credit cannot be granted on the basis of prior work or life experience.

Transfers between Graduate Programs

Students who wish to transfer from one AST program of study to another are required to apply, meet the admission standards, and fulfill the course requirements of the program to which they wish to transfer. They will be given appropriate credit for the courses they have already completed in their former program. Once admitted to the new program of study, the student ceases to be a student in the previous program.

Academic Discipline Policies and Procedures

Definitions

Academic Committee: The Academic Dean (chair), Registrar, and Core Faculty.

Academic Dean: The chief academic officer of AST.

Academic Decision: A decision by a faculty member, the Faculty as a whole, the Dean, Registrar, President, or Senate about an academic issue concerning an individual student, such as grades, student standing, academic discipline, suspension or termination of studies.

Board of Governors: An appointed body charged with the oversight of all matters relating to AST, with the exception of academic matters. Consists of representatives of the Founding Parties (Anglican, Roman Catholic, and United Church of Canada), faculty, and students.

Registrar: The academic officer responsible for course timetables, student course registration, recording of grades, and continuing maintenance of student records.

Senate: An appointed body responsible for academic programming, integrity and discipline. Consists of representatives of the Founding Parties (Anglican, and Roman Catholic, and United Church of Canada), faculty, students, Dean, and President (chair); normally meets three times in the academic year.

Suspension of Studies: A defined period away from registration for courses and participation in student life, usually required for reasons of academic discipline. A suspended student may return and register for courses when the period of suspension ends, without re-application and re-admission.

Appeals Policy and Procedure

[The AST Senate discontinued and rescinded the “Appeal of Final Marks Policy” (1991) and the “Senate Appeals Policy and Procedure” (2006) on Feb 3, 2021. The following policy was approved by Senate on 3 February 2021.]

This policy applies only to academic matters at Atlantic School of Theology.

Students currently enrolled at AST who believe they have been treated unjustly may appeal an academic decision made by an employee or body of the University. An appeal must be based on evidence of significant substance. An appeal suspends the effect of the decision being appealed until the Senate Appeals Committee considers the request and while the appeal itself is being adjudicated.

Senate Appeals Committee (ad hoc)

The Senate Appeals Committee is convened only when needed. The Committee will consist of the President of AST (as chair, non-voting), two Faculty members, and one member of Senate or the Board of Governors who is not a student and not an AST Faculty member. The Academic Dean will appoint the Committee members. If the Academic Dean is an interested party in the appeal, the President will appoint the Committee members. None of the members of the Committee may be individually involved in the decision that is being appealed. In the event that a member of the Senate Appeals Committee must be excused from the Committee, the Dean or President will appoint another Senator or Governor to serve on the Committee.

Appeal Process

STAGE 1

A student undertaking an appeal should contact the person or body who made the academic decision to request that the decision be reconsidered. All relevant information should be provided at that time.

STAGE 2

If Stage 1 has been completed, and the student wishes to further appeal the decision, the student may contact the Registrar in writing to request a review of the decision. A complete dossier must be provided to the Registrar within 21 calendar days of the date of the decision being appealed.

The following information must be supplied to the Registrar in a single dossier:

- A letter stating the academic decision in question, any penalty that was applied, and the basis for appealing the decision (for example, errors of calculation or weighting of assignments)
- If the student does not have access to materials considered relevant to the appeal, the student shall indicate this in the letter
- All relevant documents (such as letters, course syllabus, grading rubrics, assignments, instructor's and/or supervisor's assessments, or other documents)
- Any responses received by the student in Stage 1

The Registrar will acknowledge the receipt of the dossier. Written materials supplied by the student after this dossier has been submitted will not be taken into consideration.

STAGE 3

The Registrar will provide the dossier to the Senate Appeals Committee. The members of the Committee will read and then meet to review the dossier. The Committee will normally request a statement from the person or body who made the academic decision under review. However, the Committee may determine that it has sufficient information and does not require such a statement. If applicable, aspects of courses that are graded in relation to observation of a student's performance (e.g. field education courses) will be reviewed on the basis of the supervisor's observations, and of any direct documentary evidence the student or instructor may submit. At its discretion, the Committee may request that another professor assess disputed assignments (if applicable) and make a report to the Committee. If any additional relevant documents are considered by the Committee, copies will be provided to the student.

If the Committee believes that the Appeal does not have merit, the student will be notified in writing, with reasons provided.

If the Committee believes that the Appeal has merit, it may arrange to interview the student and any other relevant parties, normally within two weeks of the first sitting of the Committee. The Committee will also determine the format of any interviews in an appeal hearing process if the Committee deems interviews appropriate. The student has the right to bring an advocate to the interview process besides any witnesses called to the interview. The interviews of all relevant parties in the appeal will be conducted in the presence of the student or the student's designate. The Committee may decide not to convene any interviews.

Following interviews (if any), the Appeals Committee will render a decision in writing to the student and appropriate parties within one week of the conclusion of the interview process.

STAGE 4

After the Senate Appeals Committee has rendered its decision(s), a written copy of the decision(s) will be sent to the student and other parties involved. A copy of the decision(s) will be added to the dossier, and the dossier will be kept in the Academic Office and be subject to the Student Records Policy. If required by the Committee's decision(s), the Registrar will amend the student's transcript.

Decisions of the Senate Appeals Committee are final and not subject to further appeal.

General Principles binding all involved in an Appeal

All parties involved will respect confidentiality with respect to all names, documents, and proceedings in an appeal. The Chair of the Appeals Committee will ensure early in the process that potential conflicts of interest between members of the Committee and the student have been addressed.

Fees

Fees for use of the appeal procedure will be established by the Administration. The fee will be published in the Academic Calendar.

Plagiarism Policy

(Approved by Senate October 30, 2019)

1. Principle: Plagiarism is a serious breach of integrity both for the individual and the institution, and it requires serious sanctions.

2. Definition: Plagiarism is the presentation of another person's words, ideas or information as if they were one's own, e.g. by unacknowledged quotation, derivation, paraphrase, or summation. There is no distinction made between intentional and unintentional plagiarism.

3. Sanctions: The sanctions are as follows:

- (a) For a first incident of plagiarism, failure of the assignment in question. A copy of the assignment concerned, along with all relevant documentation of plagiarism, will be kept in the student's academic file.
- (b) For a second incident of plagiarism (in this or any other course), failure of the course, with the final grade FP (Failure due to Plagiarism) appearing on the student's transcript. A copy of the assignment concerned, along with all relevant documentation of plagiarism, will be kept in the student's academic file.
- (c) For a third incident of plagiarism (in this or any other course) suspension from further studies at AST, effective immediately, by action of the Dean.

A meeting among the student concerned, the instructor, and the Dean may be convened. The student may request support from the student's faculty advisor or other support person. No credits (for any course) will be awarded for the term in which the third incident occurred. Notice of the reason for the suspension will be recorded in the student's academic file and a copy of the assignment concerned, along with all relevant documentation of plagiarism, added to that file. The student will be suspended from all studies at AST for a minimum of 12 months. Permission to resume studies will only be granted at the discretion of the Dean in consultation with the Faculty and, where the student is a member of a formation program at AST, the appropriate Director of Formation.

4. Procedures:

- (a) When a case of plagiarism is discovered, the professor(s) involved will consult the student's academic file to determine if a previous incidence of plagiarism has been recorded.
- (b) The professor will inform the student in writing of the discovery of plagiarism and indicate to the student the sanctions that will be imposed.
- (c) When the case involves the first or second incident of plagiarism committed by the student, the professor(s) involved shall invoke the appropriate sanction outlined above in Section 3 Sanctions.
- (d) The professor will inform the Dean and the student's Faculty Advisor in writing to summarize the details of the case and to indicate steps taken above (4a-c). The Dean will then notify the rest of Faculty of the case as soon as possible.
- (e) When a professor reports a case that represents a third incident of plagiarism, the student will be suspended. See section 3(c) above – Sanctions.
- (f) If a student sanctioned for plagiarism is a participant in a formation program at AST, the appropriate denominational Director of Formation will also be informed of the sanction by the Dean.
- (g) At any stage, the student may request a meeting with the professor and the student's Faculty Advisor (or a second member of Faculty not otherwise involved in the case) within 30 days of any sanction taking effect. The student may bring a support person to the meeting.

5. Right to appeal: There are two grounds to appeal a sanction for a judgment of plagiarism:

- (i) That the work or portion of the work in question is not plagiarized, but is the student's original work.
- (ii) That the procedures outlined in Section 4 have not been followed.

There is no right to appeal on the basis of:

- ignorance of the policy or the definition of plagiarism;
- no conscious intent to mislead; or
- extenuating circumstances – e.g. stress, learning disability, inconvenience of the sanction.

6. Appeal process:

- (a) In the case where there is an argument that the work or portion of the work in question has not been plagiarized, the student may request to the Dean in writing (not later than 30 days after receiving first notice of the sanction) that the assignment be reassessed. The student must give written reasons and evidence that the work or portion of the work in question is his/her own original work.

The Dean will compile a portfolio including the material filed by the professor(s) involved and the student's submission. The Dean will request a second member of Faculty and a non-Faculty member of Senate to consider the complete portfolio and to confer with the Dean on the finding of plagiarism. The Dean will make a final determination on the case.

- (b) In the case where the student thinks that there has been lack of due process as outlined in Section 4, the student has a right to appeal to Senate. In such a case, the student must write to the Chair of the Senate (usually the President of AST) outlining the way in which due process has not been followed. The Chair of the Senate will request a member of Faculty (who has not yet been involved in the case) and a non-Faculty, non-student member of Senate to reassess the student's work and to confer with the Chair and the Dean on the finding of plagiarism. The Chair of Senate will make a final determination on the case.

Please review the Appeals Policy and Procedure for detailed information on the appeal process.

Suspension or Termination of Studies for Academic or Other Reasons

Through the President and/or the Academic Dean, AST reserves the right to suspend a student's presence from classes, the residence, AST property, and all events and gatherings of AST for cause and until such time as the cause or causes have been investigated and resolved. Reasons for suspension will be documented in writing and, if possible, discussed with the student.

AST may terminate a student's studies for academic or other reasons, including contravention of the Code of Conduct. This action may be taken on its own merits or in association with another AST policy. Before such action is taken the Academic Dean will meet with the student(s) along with the Faculty Advisor(s) as appropriate in order to hear and to address the issues involved. Students' academic progress is reviewed each term by the faculty. Students whose studies are terminated may re-apply for admission no sooner than 12 months after the termination of their studies. Although satisfactory academic performance is necessary to continuance, it is not the sole criterion. Students are evaluated for suitability in terms of the goals and objectives of the program in which they are enrolled. If for academic or other reasons a student's suitability to remain in or return to studies at AST is in question, the Faculty reserves the right to require a student to undertake evaluations as deemed appropriate in order to continue or return to studies. Any conditions governing continuation of or return to studies will be stipulated in writing.

The Academic Dean or Faculty Council may suspend a student for a given period or terminate a student's studies at AST. When a student's studies are suspended or terminated, the reasons for the decision shall be given to the student in writing and the student will meet with the Academic Dean and his/her Faculty Advisor to receive this communication when possible. In cases of suspension or termination all members of the AST community are expected to respect the rights of an individual's privacy and the confidentiality of all the parties involved.

Students have the right to appeal the termination or suspension of studies decision through the Appeals process. Appeal to the Senate suspends dismissal until the Senate committee renders a decision, unless the termination or suspension of studies is due to threats or violence against AST property, personnel, or students, including self-harm by the student in question.

Please review the Appeals Policy and Procedure for detailed information on the appeal process.

Unsatisfactory Academic Performance Policy (applies only to AST's graduate programs)

(Approved by Senate on 21 March 2007)

(Revised by Senate on 16 March 2011)

An average of B is required for graduation in the MDiv Program and the Graduate Certificate Program in Theological Studies. An average of B+ is required for graduation in the MA Program.

A course grade of C or F (a failing grade) is unsatisfactory academic performance. There are key exceptions in a few courses in which a grade of B- or better is required. See Section 3D of this Calendar, Grading System at AST. Students may carry a maximum of two unsatisfactory or failing grades. When a second unsatisfactory or failing grade is awarded, a letter stating the policy for unsatisfactory academic performance is issued to the student from the Academic Dean.

If a student receives three grades at an unsatisfactory or failing level, the student will be dismissed from further studies at AST. The student may reapply for admission to a graduate program 12 months after the end of the term in which the third unsatisfactory grade was received, giving written evidence or documentation of having addressed the concern that contributed to the unsatisfactory grades. If a medical condition contributed to the unsatisfactory academic performance, a medical certificate should be provided when the student seeks re-admission. (Note: The course in which a third C was received will not count toward graduation requirements.) If a student is readmitted under the terms of this policy, any further unsatisfactory grades will lead to termination of studies.

Code of Conduct

Approved and adopted by the Board of Governors and Senate of AST (January 2019)

Purpose and Scope

This Code of Conduct is intended to promote a harmonious, respectful environment for all who study, work, and serve at Atlantic School of Theology. It encourages all who participate in the AST community to conduct themselves appropriately, and it outlines procedures to be followed if there is a complaint against a member of the AST community. We believe that all persons are created equal and all are called to live in respectful and mutual relationships. AST is committed to providing an environment that upholds these beliefs in what we say and what we do.

This Code of Conduct applies to all students enrolled in all programs; to all paid personnel (including those appointed to work at AST by other bodies); and to all volunteers, including field education supervisors and members of the Senate and Board of Governors. All persons within these categories agree to this Code of Conduct by virtue of registering for AST courses or programs (students); accepting employment at AST (paid personnel); or agreeing to serve AST (volunteers). A copy of this Code is provided at the time of admission, employment, or service. The Code is printed in the Academic Calendar and appears on the AST website.

This Code of Conduct applies in all places that involve AST activities, including but not limited to classrooms (on land and online), meetings, gatherings, and worship services. It also applies in places in which AST community members carry out AST business, learning, or teaching, including field education sites.

Standards of Conduct

The members of the AST community together commit that we will:

- seek the well-being and dignity of others, and AST as a whole, through our actions and words, treating all with respect and care
- conduct ourselves with honesty and integrity
- live in just and right relations with one another
- make appropriate use of AST's assets, resources, and property, both real and virtual, including its computer network

We further pledge that we will not:

- assault, harass, harm, discriminate against, or coerce others
- make direct or indirect threats against persons or property
- instigate circumstances or conditions that endanger the health and safety of others
- misrepresent ourselves or AST
- disrupt classes, meetings, or other gatherings (on land or online) to the extent that others are unable to learn, work, serve, converse, or associate with others effectively
- use large amounts of computer network bandwidth at the expense of other users
- engage in illegal downloading and peer-to-peer (P2P) distribution of software or other files that are not academic in nature or that infringe copyright

Related Policies

This Code of Conduct further assumes that all AST community members will adhere to the Criminal Code of Canada as well as local, provincial, and municipal laws, together with all other AST policies, including but not limited to policies on Sexual Violence, Harassment and Discrimination, Wireless Network Usage, and Plagiarism. AST students, personnel, or volunteers who live in AST residences must also abide by AST Residence policies.

Disciplinary Procedures and Appeal

Disciplinary processes will respect privacy and will take note of power differentials between members of the community and the implications of those differentials.

Infractions of this Code of Conduct that involve criminal infractions will be referred to law enforcement. AST may pursue disciplinary procedures unrelated to what the law requires.

Complaint Processes

Stage 1 – Any person(s) who is/are concerned that a member of the AST community has violated this Code of Conduct should speak informally and promptly to that person, when possible, and seek a sensible resolution.

Stage 2 – If Stage 1 has not resulted in a satisfactory result, or was not possible, a signed complaint may be made in writing to:

- the Academic Dean (for complaints concerning students);
- the Chief Administrative Officer (for complaints concerning paid personnel);
- the President (for complaints concerning volunteers).

If there is a possible conflict of interest relating to any of these administrators, the complaint is to be addressed by one of the others.

The complaint must provide sufficient reason or evidence to conduct an investigation. Spurious or merely defamatory complaints are themselves considered infractions of this Code of Conduct.

In Stage 2, the administrative officer concerned will undertake to resolve the complaint by speaking with the person accused of a violation. The person accused will be notified in writing of the accusation. The administrative officer and the person accused may each bring up to two advocates or witnesses to this conversation. Redress, as outlined below, may be required. In egregious cases or situations of threat or danger, the administrative officer may act immediately, as an interim measure, to distance the person accused from any other persons and/or the campus or other settings.

Redress

In Stage 2 of the Complaint Process outlined above, redress may be required in the form of restorative justice process or via penalties.

Restorative Justice

- A process of dialogue and resolution may be sought that does not involve penalties.
- Training or education in the area of offense may be part of this process.

Penalties

Penalties may be levied, including any of the following:

- a warning letter stating that the person has violated the Code of Conduct
- a letter of reprimand
- requirement to apologize or to make restitution or compensation
- a period of probation
- removal of AST financial support (to a student)
- removal of privileges
- prohibition or suspension from campus or other AST activities, including online classes
- suspension or removal from academic programming, employment, or service for a defined period or permanently

Failure to cease a violating behavior will result in additional penalties.

The person who has violated this Code of Conduct will be informed of any penalties in writing. Penalties will be noted on the relevant academic or employment record, and will be communicated appropriately (e.g. to course instructors, field supervisors, church judicatories, or AST colleagues).

Penalties stipulated here cannot exceed or contradict the provisions of collective agreements with paid personnel.

Appeals

If penalties are imposed on a member of the AST community, that person may appeal the decision of the administrative officer within 15 calendar days only if:

- not all facts were considered, or new facts have come to light since the penalty was imposed;
- the penalty is unreasonable; or
- the administrative officer made an error in applying this Code of Conduct.

A written appeal must be filed by the person penalized and submitted to the Chair of the Board of Governors. The appeal must indicate the grounds for the appeal.

Within 30 calendar days, a formal hearing will be convened by a person named by the Chair of the Board of Governors who is not the administrative officer first involved in hearing the complaint.

The formal hearing panel will include the convener; one member of the core faculty or another AST employee; one member of the Senate or Board of Governors; and one student appointed by the Student Union. Any party may each bring up to two advocates or witnesses to the formal hearing, which will be a confidential proceeding. Penalties, as outlined above, may be reconsidered, dismissed, or applied in a different way. The person accused will be notified in writing within 10 days of the panel's decision.

In all cases and at all stages, AST will not pay any financial costs incurred by the person accused.

Campus, Community, and Environment

Halifax – A Great City for Study

Founded in 1749, Halifax is a port city that offers many opportunities for study, community and reflection. The city has seven post-secondary institutions, with graduate schools in law, medicine, engineering, music, education, art, and theology. Each is enriched and supported by a series of libraries, art galleries, museums, and concert halls.

A short walk away from the AST campus, Point Pleasant Park is a 186-acre Acadian forest that was given to the people of Halifax by Queen Victoria in 1873. Each year more than one million people walk and jog along the pathways of this beautiful, peaceful oasis in the heart of the city's historic south end.

AST is also conveniently located near Halifax Transit bus routes, connecting you within minutes to shopping, restaurants, and entertainment sites in the city's downtown core. Many of these sites are also within walking distance of our campus.

Our Physical Campus

Nestled along the lovely Atlantic Ocean shoreline of the Northwest Arm of Halifax Harbour, AST's worship, classrooms, and residence facilities are all located on campus. The Library, Saint Columba Chapel and Teaching Centre, and the Student Residence form the core of our campus.

Saint Columba Chapel

Chapel services, matriculation, and public lectures and presentations take place in Saint Columba Chapel throughout the year. In the Fall and Winter terms, daily chapel services are scheduled on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 12:00 noon. Wednesdays are reserved for denominational formation programming and worship. Chapel services are also organized during the Summer term.

Residence

The AST residence has accommodations for postsecondary students. We offer both single and double rooms, and a small number of apartments featuring a sitting room, bedroom, kitchenette, and bathroom that are suitable for couples and/or families. AST students are given preference for apartments.

Given AST's close proximity to several Halifax universities, we also provide accommodations for full-time students from other institutions seeking a quiet environment that encourages study and reflection. The residence embraces principles of community and consideration for others, and in that spirit, we are a smoke and scent-free campus. This extends to all our buildings and property. (See "AST Residence Rates and Policies" for additional information.)

The Residence Council oversees and sets guidelines for life in residence, arranges social activities, and represents the interests of residents. Extensive quiet times have been established to encourage graduate study. The residence includes a television lounge/common room and common kitchen areas.

Our Campus and Community

Arts and Theology Initiative

This program explores the relationship between the arts and theology. It offers AST students the opportunity to both learn and use the vast media that shape how people think and feel within the 21st century context.

Mobile Phones and Devices

It is expected that all mobile phones and devices will be turned off in classes, meetings, library, and chapel services. If emergency calls are anticipated, groups are to be informed in advance. Those receiving calls are expected to leave the area to respond.

Orientation

At the beginning of the Summer and Fall terms, the AST Community comes together to welcome new and returning students; and orient new students to AST by introducing them to social and worship life at AST, the library system, and AST's policies and curricula.

Registration

During designated registration periods, students meet with their faculty advisors to make course selections and discuss program and denominational requirements. Information about Registration is posted on the Students page of the AST website.

Scent-Free Campus

Due to significant allergies among students and staff, please refrain from the use of scented products of any kind, including perfume, cologne, lotion, powder, aftershave, and related products. Please take this concern seriously.

Service Animals

In the case of a documented medical need, trained service animals may accompany persons on campus. However, AST is not a suitable environment for the training of service animals. Other animals and pets cannot be on campus at any time. Due to significant allergies among students and staff, pets are not allowed in classes, events, the library, meeting rooms, offices, the chapel, or the residence rooms. Please make other arrangements.

Smoke-Free Campus

All smoking, vaping, and use of smoking products is prohibited on campus. This includes but is not limited to all forms of tobacco, and all smokable forms of cannabis. The burning of sage, cedar, sweetgrass, or tobacco is an integral part of cultural ceremonies and therefore these substances may be burned on campus for such purposes with written advance permission of Atlantic School of Theology. A copy of the full policy is available on the AST website.

Worship and Formation

The AST community is made up of people from many walks of life. Some students live in residence, some live in the city or in a more distant suburban or rural setting. Some live hundreds or thousands of kilometres away from the Halifax campus, or outside Canada. Most of our students belong to Christian denominations; some belong to other religious traditions, or none. We welcome students from every part of the world who wish to study with us.

Chapel services

Community worship is a vital tradition at AST and is central to our common life. Morning chapel services take place at Saint Columba Chapel during the Summer, Fall, and Winter terms. These services are in keeping with our Christian identity, as expressed in our Mission Statement. Whatever your tradition, we welcome you to join us for these services.

The Senate Worship-Chaplaincy Committee oversees common worship in Saint Columba Chapel. Students and faculty work together to plan worship services.

Music

Music is integral to the AST experience. There are many opportunities for you to participate, whether it is singing or preparing and playing music for the community in chapel worship.

Mr. Kevin Parks, distinguished organist and choirmaster, is University Musician of Atlantic School of Theology and Director of Music for St. Andrew's United Church in Halifax. You may reach him at astmusician@asttheology.ns.ca.

Formation

AST and various denominations co-operate in maintaining Formation Programs and Directors for ordination candidates/postulants and lay persons. Each denomination approaches preparation or formation for ordination and ministry in a distinct way that honours their traditions. All recognize that readiness for ministry is more than intellectual preparation, and that preparation processes may differ. All MDiv students, and BTh students seeking to serve in church contexts, must participate in a Formation program and earn one Formation credit to graduate.

Funding and Financial Assistance

To reduce the burden of study-related debt, students are encouraged to pursue various funding sources, and to seek part-time employment as necessary. A list of external funding opportunities can be found on the AST website, on the “Students” page, under “Financial Assistance.” AST also provides students with internal funding opportunities, as noted here.

Thanks to the generosity of donors, AST offers need-based bursaries for its students. (Financial assistance available through churches of our founding denominations is detailed below.) Bursaries are awarded by AST’s Bursary Committee based on terms and conditions set by donors, or by the Committee. Both full-time and part-time students are eligible to be considered for bursary assistance. Application deadlines: September 30 (for Fall and Winter term applications), May 31 (for Summer term Applications). All bursary applicants must be admitted and registered at AST to be considered for bursaries.

Emergency funding requests throughout the academic year will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Students who are experiencing unexpected and unforeseen financial difficulties that make it difficult to continue with their studies may apply for special consideration. Inquiries can be sent to bursary@astheology.ns.ca

Application forms, along with other details, are available on the AST website: www.astheology.ns.ca/future/financial-assistance

Questions about bursaries can be directed to the AST Bursary Committee: bursary@astheology.ns.ca

Financial Assistance for Candidates/Postulants for Ordination

Students are encouraged to speak with their Formation Directors or other denominational officials regarding their church's financial assistance while studying at AST.

Anglican Church of Canada: Anglican students studying at AST can access financial support from a variety of sources. AST itself offers bursaries that Anglicans can apply for each year. The Anglican Faculty also administers bursaries available to Anglicans through the University of King's College Divinity Scholarships and Bursaries. (See King's College Divinity Bursaries and Prizes.) Anglican students are also encouraged to seek financial support from sources external to AST. All should consider applying for support from the Anglican Foundation of the Anglican Church of Canada. Similarly, they are encouraged to consult with their bishop regarding diocesan scholarships. Some dioceses are able to cover full tuition costs for students recognized as postulants. Many local ACW groups, Eastern Star organizations, and individual churches also offer scholarships for divinity students. For further information, contact your bishop and the chair of the Anglican Faculty at AST.

Roman Catholic Church: Bursary assistance from external sources is available to Roman Catholic students and varies according to the diocese. Persons seeking such information are advised to contact the Vocations Office of their diocese or the Roman Catholic Formation Director at AST.

United Church of Canada: The Board of Governors of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, one of the Founding Parties of Atlantic School of Theology, provides financial assistance for United Church of Canada students preparing for ordered and lay ministry. A Bursary Endowment Fund has been accumulated through the years as a result of gifts from those interested in the support of training for Christian ministry as well as memorial donations from friends and relatives of clergy and laity who wished to honour those who have faithfully served God and the Church. A complete record of such gifts and memorials is maintained by the Board of Governors of Pine Hill Divinity Hall. Recipients must be members of The United Church of Canada in full communion, studying for the ministry at Atlantic School of Theology, and willing to commit to at least two years ministering within The United Church of Canada after they have finished their training at AST.

If the student is a confirmed candidate at the time of enrollment, Pine Hill Divinity Hall will pay required tuition fees directly to Atlantic School of Theology on the student's behalf. If the student expects to become a confirmed candidate during the fall semester, the student is responsible for tuition to Atlantic School of Theology and will be reimbursed as determined by Pine Hill Divinity Hall after the student's candidacy has been confirmed as outlined above.

Pine Hill will reimburse United Church of Canada students for their portion of the Vocational Assessment as well as the cost of any mandatory workshops required by The United Church of Canada.

Otherwise the amount will be considered unpaid and late payment charges will be applied. To have your registration status confirmed to Canada Student Loans and/or provincial student loans by AST, please contact the Registrar. Please contact the Registrar (registrar@asttheology.ns.ca or 902.425.3691) if you have questions about student loans and AST.

U.S. Student Loans

Atlantic School of Theology (OPE ID School #04123100) is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as a deferment-only or eligibility-only institution. While AST is not authorized to certify new U.S. Federal student loans for U.S. students, U.S. students attending AST who have a pre-existing U.S. Federal Student loan may qualify for a temporary suspension of the student loan repayment obligation (an "in-school deferment") while attending AST at least half-time.

Unpaid Balances

All fees and outstanding debts to AST are to be paid upon registration at the beginning of each term. Please ensure that your account is settled with the Business Office before the end of each term.
